Dirksen And Halleck Still Solid In GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although they are interested in the outcome, it won't make much practical difference to Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana whether Dean Burch is forced out as Republican national chairman.

Because Burch was one of those who engineered the campaign in which Sen. Barry Goldwater was solidly defeated in his bid for the presidency, some Republicans are hunting for the chairman's scalp.

No Discord In Ranks

The Senate and House Republican leaders have avoided getting involved in this controversy. They know that the record the party carries into the 1968 elections will be forged in Congress and not by the national committee.

There have been some cries for new and younger faces in the leadership roles. But Dirksen and Halleck appear to have fortified their power base and seem unlikely to be presented with any serious challenge from within the ranks of their followers.

The national chairman is invited to sit in with them and other members of Congress in weekly meetings during the session.

Goldwater, who picked Burch and wants him retained as national chairman, has made it clear he recognizes that the party's record is made in Congress.

"This is the historical place where the real political power rests," he told a post-election news conference in Phoenix, Ariz.

Leaders Come Through

The defeated presidential candidate said he plans to "work hand and glove" with Dirksen and Halleck. But Goldwater is leaving the Senate in January and may not always be around when the GOP leaders decide to file off a policy statement.

The Republican governors also are talking about contributing to the party dialogue in an effort to influence its future course. But while they probably could influence the national committee members of their states in voting, there are members from 33 other states who have no GOP governor to guide them.

Dirksen and Halleck can't always get a majority of their Republican blocs to go along with them. But when the chips are down the two leaders usually can come through with the nearly solid support of their members.

Peking Sounds Out London On Nuclear Session

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson said today Premier Chou En-lai of Red China has sent him a message proposing an all-nation summit meeting to discuss nuclear disarmament.

Wilson told the House of Commons his Labor government is consulting with Allied nations before answering the proposal.

Red China recently set off its first nuclear device, but Western scientists doubt that it has yet developed a workable nuclear bomb or the means to deliver it by plane or rocket.

British Regime Wins First Test By Seven Votes

LONDON (AP) — With its first House of Commons vote safely behind it, Britain's Labor government faced another tonight and was confident of success.

By a margin of seven votes, 307, to 300, Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Laborites Monday night defeated a Conservative attack on their pledge to nationalize steel production. The vote tonight was on a Conservative motion of no confidence in Wilson's government.

The government's margin of victory was likely to be larger tonight. The nine Liberal members, who joined the Conservatives in voting against steel nationalization, were expected to abstain.

For two hours Monday night Scottish Laborites were grounded by fog in Glasgow. Since the government normally has only a five-vote majority in Commons and two Labor members were ill, Wilson appeared to face defeat after only 23 days in office. An adverse vote would have forced him to resign.

The Laborites made it from Glasgow in time for the vote, and the fog kept two Conservatives away from London. But Wilson ordered all Laborites weekending outside the capital in the future to get back by train if a critical vote was scheduled.

New Greenville Plant Expanded

GREENVILLE (AP) — Still under construction, the new $2 million Ore-Ida Foods, Inc., processing plant here is being expanded by 7,200 square feet beyond original plans, a company official said today.

Arnold Lewis, resident manager, reported also that operations are scheduled to begin April 1 rather than next fall as first planned.

At the same time, a Greenville civic drive to raise $75,000 to pay for a portion of the plant's industrial site was concluded successfully Monday night.

Mrs. L. Stanley Kemp, chairman of the Greenville Industrial Development Corp.-Chamber of Commerce drive, reported that pledges had been obtained from 127 firms and individuals.

At the start, the plant intends to process potatoes shipped from other states. It will use, under contract, Michigan potatoes beginning next fall. It is expected to employ as many as 400 persons in peak production times.

President Seeks Defense Savings

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson is reviewing U.S. military commitments, looking for possible savings to help finance other administration programs.

To help in the hunt, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Secretary of State Dean Rusk meet with Johnson today at his ranch home for a top-level conference.

The President wants them to pinpoint ways to economize — particularly in the defense budget — so funds can be freed for other legislative proposals Johnson will send to Congress in January.

These proposals — including broadscale efforts to aid education and promote prosperity — are still in the drafting stage.

McNamara flew to the LBJ Ranch Monday for an intensive review of the Pentagon budget. He is expected to hold a news conference this afternoon at Bergstrom Air Force Base, Austin.

Johnson is making a fine-print study of defense spending because he wants to keep his next budget under $100 billion.

Pair Paddles Canoe Across Lake Michigan

ROMULUS (AP) — Their canoe crossing of Lake Michigan was a heady experience for John T. Baker, and Richard Kiiski, both 22.

But they're not apt to try it again soon.

"As far as I could learn, it was the first time anybody did it. And I don't know if it will be done again — by us, either," said Baker.

Baker, University of Michigan student, and Kiiski, his ex-Marine pal from Boston, made it across the lake in an estimated 17 hours Sunday in Baker's 18-foot fibre-glass reinforced racing canoe.

A U. S. Coast Guard search began for them Monday when a thick fog lifted.

Land Near Ludington

However, Baker and Kiiski already had landed on the Michigan shoreline south of Ludington. For many hours they had been unreported.

A Coast Guard boat led them to port here.

Baker's mother, Dr. Dorothy Baker, psychiatrist at Dearborn Veterans Hospital, had spent a tense night and half a day before learning the young men were safe.

But she foregoes them. "What else can a mother do?" she laughed, before preparing a steak for each on their return to the Baker home here Monday night.

Though her son is an "expert canoeist," Mrs. Baker had worried. Young Baker and Kiiski had set about the stunt without her knowledge.

In November, Lake Michigan can be perilous. Storms kick up suddenly.

Aimed By Compass

Baker and Kiiski propelled their canoe with double-bladed kayak-style paddles. They had a compass that led them through the fog. Their canoe was fitted with a metal keel and a full canvas cover.

"But it wasn't as seaworthy as it should have been," Baker admitted.

Kiiski, who served in the Caribbean and on Okinawa, said he has had experience with the water. He also lived 13 years on Nantucket Island.

He said in a telephone interview that the Lake Michigan trip was worthwhile for the "physiological and psychological things that took place" for him.

Then he abruptly left the telephone excusing himself.

His steak was ready.

Kremlin Calls Conference On Moscow-Peking Split

MOSCOW (AP) — A new call came from the Kremlin today for a world Communist conference on the Moscow-Peking rift, but there was no indication Chinese Premier Chou En-lai's talks with the new Soviet leaders have brought the two camps closer together.

A Moscow dispatch to L'Unita, the Italian Communist newspaper, said Chou and his Peking delegation, which came to Moscow for last week's celebration of the 47th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution, apparently were extending their visit for further talks.

An editorial today in Pravda, the Soviet party paper, said a world Communist conference "is clearly overdue."

Red China had vigorously opposed such a conference when former Premier Nikita Khrushchev called it to muster support against the Chinese. The Kremlin's new leaders, party secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, are expected to put the emphasis at such a meeting on unity and not schism.

Viet Nam Has Flood Disaster

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Sixty-nine U.S. advisers were flown today from Quang Ngai, 330 miles northeast of Saigon, as 10 flooded provinces in central Viet Nam were declared a disaster area.

Much of South Viet Nam's armed junk fleet, which patrols the coast against Communist seaborne infiltration, was reported destroyed or damaged by recent storms.

U.S. military helicopters were carrying out a massive airlift, bringing supplies to refugees and evacuating hundreds from the worst hit hamlets. The Americans removed from Quang Ngai were taken to a military headquarters on higher ground.

The government made $20,000 worth of supplies available to refugees. The U.S. development mission was pouring in rice, wheat and blankets.

Storms during the past two months have saturated the mountain watersheds, and continuing rains are adding to the overflow from rivers and waterways.

Detroit Strike Settlement Near

DETROIT (AP) — Tentative agreement on a new contract between Detroit's strikebound daily newspapers and one of two striking craft unions was announced today by federal and state mediators.

Details of the settlement with Local 10 of the Plate and Paper Handlers Union were not disclosed, pending ratification by the union membership.

Mediators said the settlement will be recommended unanimously by the union's bargaining committee.

There still was no indication of settlement between publishers of the morning Detroit Free Press and afternoon Detroit News with Local 13 of the Printing Pressmen's Union, which walked out with the plate and paper handlers 120 days ago and closed down the two newspapers.

Publishers and pressmen are to resume negotiations Thursday.

Robbers Caught After Beating Up Woman In Ionia

IONIA (AP) — Quick police communications led to arrests of two men Monday night after a store robbery near here in which the elderly woman proprietor was beaten.

Mrs. Ethel Whitten, 71, was robbed of money from her till and cartons of cigarettes and left semi-conscious in a back room from the beating.

A store patron and a neighbor found her. State police put out a radio description of a car believed used by the two thieves.

Police chief Lyle Russell and Ionia sheriff's deputy Ralph Johnson recognized the car's description. They seized two men at their residence. Both were held for investigation.

Woman Perishes In S. California Mudslide Deluge

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rain was predicted today in Southern California, where storm-triggered mudslides Monday struck with avalanche fury at areas saved earlier from dry-season brushfires.

One mudslide sluiced down a fire-denuded canyon and into a residential street, sweeping a fleeing housewife with it.

Police say Aimee Miller may have been carried three-quarters of a mile and entombed in a catch basin — along with cars, furniture and household debris — in a 20-foot-deep mass of mud.

Her husband, William, 49, singer Frank Sinatra's accompanist, tried to save his wife from their crumbling home, and was also swept away. Firemen rescued him as he clung to a car in the swirling flood.

Their daughter, Meredith, 17, climbed uphill to safety as the family's canyon home twisted and cracked under the onslaught of mud.

The Miller home was destroyed and eight others damaged in the Verdugo Hills section of Burbank, a Los Angeles suburb, which is near the scene of a major brush fire in the foothills last spring.

GOP Lukewarm On 1965 Rally

WASHINGTON (AP) — Massachusetts Atty. Gen. Edward W. Brooke's call for a Republican convention next year to draft a new platform is getting only a lukewarm reception from party leaders.

A few here and there find it a clarion call for action, but most told The Associated Press in a survey they don't see any need for the party to convene before 1968, as scheduled.

The over-riding view is: "Let's wait for the dust to settle before making any major decision." Or, as Victor Smith, chairman of the GOP Central Committee in Illinois, put it: "Right now we need sober and reflective thought."

Brooke's idea draws attention partly because it is unique and partly because of his smashing victory last Tuesday while President Johnson was sweeping the state. A Negro who refused to endorse Barry Goldwater, Brooke was re-elected by almost 800,000 votes despite a 1-million-plus victory for Johnson.

In outlining his suggestion, Brooke said the convention should be held in the summer of 1965 because by 1965 the delegates "should be ready for the congressional election and then get ready for 1968."

"If they don't," he added, "then we will become rather perilously close to losing the vital two-party system of government."

Brezhnev raised a toast to Communist unity Monday at a farewell dinner for foreign delegations leaving after the week-end celebrations. There was no word whether Chou responded.

Monaco Ruler's Father Dies

MONACO (AP) — The father of Monaco's Prince Rainier III, Prince Pierre, died today in a Paris hospital, a family spokesman announced.

Prince Pierre, 69, had been ill for a long time and was hospitalized several days ago. The cause of death was not announced.

Thirty Injured In School Bus

BREMERTON, Wash. (AP) — "Tell daddy to get out here quick," said the excited young voice of Donna Muller, 17, into the telephone.

"There are kids cut and bleeding all over the place," Dr. C. D. Muller thus was one of the first to reach the hillside near the city's edge where a school bus rolled over Monday afternoon, injuring about 30 of the 67 high school students it was returning to their homes.

None was hurt critically and school Supt. Bud Winderl said he believed not more than 15 were hospitalized. Most seriously hurt were three with broken arms or shoulders, suffered when they were tossed about as the bus rolled 71 feet down an embankment.

In the group was Jan Westera, about 17, an exchange student from the Netherlands, who suffered a cut over one eye. The state patrol said driver James H. Cobb told officers he pulled to the shoulder of the road as a city bus approached. The wheels of the school bus slipped into a drainage ditch, and Cobb said he was unable to maneuver the vehicle back on the road.

Powell Predicts Negro In Cabinet

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Democratic Rep. Adam Clayton Powell of New York, a Negro, predicted Monday that President Johnson would soon appoint a Negro to his Cabinet.

Powell, at a news conference, declined further comment, except to say he was not referring to himself.

Powell, chairman of the House Education and Welfare Committee, is investigating the California farm labor situation.

Forest Lands Are Firetraps; Wheat Ruined

CHICAGO (AP) — An autumn drought described in some areas as the worst in history has turned hundreds of communities into emergency areas, threatened the nation's farmers with a multimillion-dollar loss in winter wheat and made forestlands fire traps.

An Associated Press survey today showed that hundreds of counties have become eligible for federal aid as wells, streams and springs have dried up and water has been pumped to farms.

Drought For 6 Months

The drought has taken on major proportions in New England, which the U.S. Weather Bureau said was the worst in the area's history. The bureau said the drought has extended for more than six months in four New England states.

Farmers scanned the skies grimly in the Midwest and Southwest as one of the worst moisture shortages in the 20th century began taking its toll on the winter wheat crop.

In California, the drought situation was eased by a torrential rainstorm.

One of the hardest-hit states is Colorado, where the state's entire $100-million winter-wheat crop is near total destruction because of lack of rain. The situation also was described as critical in parts of Wyoming and western Kansas.

Water Supplies Short

The New England drought plagued an area from Pittsfield, Mass., to Hartford, Conn., and from Haverhill, Mass., to Concord, N.H.

The Massachusetts Department of Water reported a 30 per cent water shortage in October and described the situation as a statewide emergency.

Thousands of dairy farms are short of water in Vermont and New Hampshire.

In Pennsylvania, the Crop Reporting Service said the winter wheat crop has a poor start in a state which has an $800-million agricultural industry.

Twenty-five eastern Pennsylvania counties are eligible for federal emergency feed grains and other counties are applying.

An official said that unless heavy rains come before the ground freezes, farmers will be faced with a water shortage all winter. Fifteen communities are now on emergency water supplies and some farmers are hauling water for livestock.

Wisconsin Parched

Last month was the driest October this century in Illinois. Wisconsin is experiencing its second driest autumn since records were begun in 1892.

Twenty-six of Minnesota's 87 counties have been designated disaster areas and 26 of South Dakota's 64 counties have designated drought areas.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman has declared 14 of Michigan's 83 counties emergency feed areas. More than 3,250 livestock producers have been threatened with liquidation of their estimated 38,480 head of livestock.

Deposed Guard Officers To Get December Hearing

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan National Guard officers removed from active duty last month will get a formal hearing before Gov. George Romney "about the middle of December," Romney said today.

"I checked with Aud. Gen. Billie Farnum yesterday on the preparation of material for the hearing," Romney said in a news conference. "The officers will receive the material 20 days before the hearing—which would place it about the middle of December."

Maj. Gen. Ronald McDonald, adjutant general, and Brig. Gen. Carson Neifert, quartermaster general, were removed from active duty Oct. 8 in the wake of an auditor general's report of alleged land, liquor and money irregularities.

Workman Comp Trend Increases Loggers' Costs

H. D. Stott, director of industrial relations for Calumet & Hecla, Inc., at Calumet, told wood producers of the eastern Upper Peninsula at Cooks Nov. 6 that they can look forward to eventual Michigan laws requiring workmen's compensation coverage on a single employee.

At present Michigan requires that employers provide compensation coverage when they have three or more employees. Big industries create their own insurance systems, small employers buy compensation coverage from commercial insurance companies.

Stott told the employers of woods labor of changes in Michigan's requirement that employers provide for their injured workers. Stott and other industrial employment officers keep close tabs on compensation legislation and trends because insurance is such a big cost of business.

"Workmen's compensation," he said "has political overtones. It varies by states. Michigan got a reasonably good law in 1912, but it is not adequate for today's activities. Meanings have changed. Despite increases in the hours worked (because of more employees) the accidents have been kept down and yet cost of accidents has increased. Why?

Changed Outlook
"I am amazed at the people in business who don't take the trouble to look at the law. Legal actions have created new trends in compensation. There is more concern about benefits. Cases used to be called accidents but now nervousness can be an accident."

"The changes have come from a new social philosophy and from political thinking; people make promises without thinking of the consequences. The public has come to think of workmen's compensation as insurance and says when a man is hurt give him benefits. I take a dim view of that; I think the whole effort should be to make the man whole again. Most men want to work, but Michigan lacks the ability to give rehabilitation training.

"When I worked in New Mexico we had an accident victim who became a total paraplegic, but he was rehabilitated as a welder and is making more money than he was before the accident. He didn't stay in bed and become a vegetable. Instead of this approach we hear too much of 'getting $57 a week.' (The top rate for Michigan's compensation.)

Federalization Sought

"The United Auto Workers is making a great push to federalize workmen's compensation. I don't think that is necessarily good, although some states are better than others. There are programs peculiar to the states. Federalization might cost the taxpayers elsewhere heavily to support a program in an industrial state; they might pay an improper share."

"The UAW wants the injured to get 75 per cent of their earnings. This might lead a man never to want to go to work again. We had a young man who had a foot crushed and today he's got his own trucking firm. They wanted to take his foot off and it would have cost $6,000 in compensation but we spent $18,000 and saved his foot."

"The unions want to put the private insurance companies out of the workmen's compensation business. There will be some bloody noses in the effort, but they're trying to do it. We would like to see the administration of workmen's compensation cleaned up. There are too few referees to hear cases. (Stott said Louis Gregory, Escanaba U. P. hearings referee was doing a very good job in a very large territory.)

Award Plus Interest

"There are 6,000 cases on the books in Detroit and some of them have been there for 5 years. They are old and the lawyers take as much as 25 per cent after years and when there is a delay the company has to pay the award plus 5 per cent interest. It's not the company's fault or the injured man's fault. We think it's not right and it's one of the things that brought on workmen's compensation in the first place, because the wealthy companies could get a battery of lawyers and delay payment forever. It is a good thing to get it out of the courts because people with money could drag it out there."

"We want a definition of partial disability. We have had claims of asthma in underground mining because of the air and the air underground in our mines is purer than it is above ground in Houghton."

"We'd like something done about duplication of benefits. It's now possible to get total disability plus partial disability."

"We have said that the benefits are too low and should be better, but not in a giveaway program without some things adjusted. Benefits range from $150 a week in Arizona lumbering to $57 in Michigan, down to $37 in Virginia and up to $71.59 in Washington."

"Michigan has had one of the best records of controlling industrial accidents of any of the states. The reason the compensation rates have gone up (they're over 20 per cent of payroll of logging) is because of socialized thinking, improvement of benefits and interpretation of the law by the legal people."

Except for a thin strip around the shoreline, almost all of the island of Greenland is covered by a sheet of ice. At its highest point, the ice sheet is more than a mile thick.

Young People Assist Drive

The campaign for funds to find a cure and to fight muscular dystrophy is being assisted by groups of young people in Escanaba and Gladstone.

Tom Smith, Escanaba chairman, said that the March for Muscular Dystrophy will be conducted in Escanaba by Holy Name High School students tonight from 5 to 7 p. m.

The hours of the solicitation in Gladstone will be the same tonight, said Jack Shiner, Gladstone chairman, and the callers will be students of the Gladstone High School.

Cannisters into which the public may place contributions were distributed in the two cities by the young men of the Order of DeMolay.

The funds received from the local community and across the nation in the campaign finance programs of research to conquer the disease, and for patient service projects.

Awards Given To 10 Cub Scouts By Pack 416

Cub Scout awards were given to 10 boys of Pack 416 at Washington School in the regular monthly meeting Monday.

Webelos leader Clarence Shiner presented bobcat pins to Ronald Flinn, Jackie Kidd, Jimmy King, Rory Montgomery and Peter Sidlecki.

Wolf and Bear with Gold and Silver Arrow Points were given to Bob Larson, Wayne Johnson and Bob Brannan; Lions badges to Donald Balthazore and Fred Niquette.

Jimmy Hansen, Bob Brannan, Fred Niquette and Donald Balthazore were also inducted into Webelos.

Opening ceremonies were presented by Mrs. Richard Wagner's Den 2. A skit, "We Are Cub Scouts," was given by Mrs. Nyle Nelson's Den 3.

Tentative date of Dec. 13 was set for the Pack Christmas party. Mrs. Robert Brannan (ST 6-0849) was named committee chairman.

The meeting closed with "The Living Circle" ceremony by Mrs. Clarence Shiner's Den 1.

Gasline Service Hearing Jan. 26

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Power Commission has set Jan. 26 for the start of a hearing on competing proposals to extend natural gas service to Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

Northern Natural Gas Co., Omaha, is proposing a $35.7 million project to serve 26 communities and seven industrial customers. A competing proposal has been filed by Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., and its affiliate, Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Co., both of Detroit.

The Detroit firms propose a joint project costing $15.8 million to serve 36 communities and one iron ore plant.

The Michigan Public Service Commission has given its permission to Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. to build a natural gas pipe line from Menominee to Powers-Spalding and then east to Rapid River and west to Iron River. Upper Peninsula Fuels Research, Inc., a group of fuels dealers has appealed from this authorization in a suit started in Ingham County (Lansing) Circuit Court which is not yet set for hearing.

Northern Natural Gas Co. did not ask the Michigan Public Service Commission for a permit but went directly to the Federal Power Commission to ask permission to build a line from Duluth east to Escanaba-Gladstone and service the Upper Peninsula, including that southern portion which Michigan proposes to serve by extending the Menominee line of Wisconsin Michigan Pipe Line Co.

The main issue before FPC appears to be: Shall it authorize a gas pipe line for the Upper Peninsula, or two of them, one in the south to be built by Mich Con and one in the north by Northern Natural?

Decision Soon On Bay Races

Ervin A. Steiner, Jr., of Detroit, president of Unlimiteds Inc., informed Walter G. Lewke, manager of the Escanaba Area Chamber of Commerce today that the proposal for hydroplane races on Little Bay de Noc next July will be presented to Unlimiteds, chairman, commissioners, and owners and hydroplane drivers at the annual meeting to be held this month. A decision is expected by Monday, Nov. 16 by the local committee proposing the races, Lewke said.

"I personally enjoyed my short stay in Escanaba and I will recommend Escanaba for a race site very highly," said Steiner. "It was very nice being with you, and I am looking forward to spending time with you next summer."

Fund Promoted On Birth Control

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Presidents Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower are co-chairmen of an honorary sponsors council of Planned Parenthood-World Population.

The organization soon will launch a drive to collect $10 million to promote birth control among peoples who seek such assistance.

School Fire In Peshtigo Idles 700 Students

PESHTIGO — The Peshtigo school board Monday sought all available rooms in the city to hold classes after a $100,000 fire ripped through the high school building.

Out of classes are 336 high school students and 364 elementary pupils after fire broke out early Monday and gutted a one-story section of the school containing the library, social studies classrooms, the duplicating room and a study hall.

The fire spread to an adjoining wing and destroyed a chemistry and science lab including $6,000 worth of new equipment. The burned out section, built in 1936, had been newly remodeled.

Cause of the blaze, which was discovered at 4 a. m. and fought for two hours by volunteer firemen from Peshtigo and Marinette, was undetermined.

C. G. Manutes, Gulliver, Dies

MANISTIQUE — Christopher George Manutes, 63, proprietor of Chris' Restaurant at Gulliver, died unexpectedly at 7:39 a. m. today in Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. He had been a patient one day.

Mr. Manutes was born in Sparta, Greece, Dec. 25, 1895 and came to the United States when he was 18. He made his home in Detroit and moved to Flint in 1929. He became a resident of Gulliver in 1959 and had spent summers there and winters in Flint.

In 1952 he married Joy Dimetrapoulos in Sparta. He was a member of the Greek Orthodox Church in Flint, the ALPHA fraternal organization and Agape.

He leaves his wife, Joy, three brothers, John, James and Peter, all of Flint; two sisters, Mrs. Katherine Alexander and Mrs. Nick Zafires of Burbank, Calif.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday at 2 p. m. in Messier Broulliere Funeral Home with the Rev. D. Karampelas of Marquette officiating. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 2 p. m. Thursday.

Sunday Liquor Sale Supported In Hearing Here

A local option on Sunday sales of liquor—considered by the State Legislature for years but never passed—received considerable support in a legislative committee hearing Monday in the State Office Building.

Representative Edward K. Michalski, Wayne County Democrat and vice chairman of the committee, said that of about 100 citizens who turned out to speak at the hearing about 60 spoke in favor of permissive legislation allowing local option.

"Normally, our meetings have been just the opposite," he said. "People are interested in it, but don't come out to express themselves."

Currently, state law prohibits sale of liquor on Sundays, though sale of beer and wine is permitted after noon.

The committee, set up by the House of Representatives, is studying public reaction to state legalization of liquor sales on Sunday.

Argue Both Ways
Touring with the committee is Sen. Stanley Novak, a member of the Senate Liquor Committee and with the Democratic sweep of the legislature in last week's general election, next in line for its chairmanship post.

"The question we are considering here," Novak said, "is, would a measure like this do justice to the U. P.?"

There are arguments both ways. Supporters of permissive local option legislation, mostly from the resort, tourism, hotel and restaurants industries, contend that the state is losing a sizable chunk of the tourist dollar to other states because of the current ban on Sunday sales.

The Detroit City Council, for example, has asked such a bill, stating that a Sunday ban hurts the city's chances of landing major conventions.

Religious Question
Opponents, mostly church groups and temperance people, charge that Sunday liquor sales would increase highway hazards and that selling liquor on Sunday is morally wrong.

Underlying the entire issue is the question of the Sunday sabbath day, which, despite recent court rulings, is still strongly cherished as a day of rest by a majority of the population.

"What a permissive bill would do would be to put liquor on the same basis as beer and wine," Michalski said. "The people of each area would still have to decide what to do with it."

As of yet, he added, there has been no recommendation from the committee either for or against such a bill. That, he said, would come after all hearings have been completed and evaluations made of the testimony given.

Referendum Possible

He pointed out, however, that even if permissive legislation were recommended and eventually approved by the legislature, a method for implementing the law would have to be agreed on.

And, he emphasized, even if such legislation were approved the people could use referendum to get a statewide vote.

With the state's current population, a referendum petition requires about 350,000 signatures.

Creating More Pulping

Unless it can be sold, wood in Upper Peninsula forests is worth no more today than it was in Indian days, and holding it is a bigger problem today because the Indians didn't have to pay taxes.

The only exception to this statement is that woodlands have a recreational value today, but even here it is desirable that their trees be harvested because recreation calls for a thrifty and growing forest, not an overmature ruin tumbling down in litter.

Michigan State University's Extension Service sponsored an educational conference for timber producers of the eastern Upper Peninsula at Cooks recently to consider what might be done to help them. Their big need is more market for the wood growing in the eastern Upper Peninsula that can't be sold. It's in private forests and in the state and federal forests.

Many agencies are working on the problem of selling this unwanted wood. It is not merchantable chiefly because its distance from markets makes it more expensive than other supplies nearer to the mills.

The obvious solution is to move the mills nearer to the forest, but this takes some doing because such a move takes the mills farther from the markets for the products they make from the wood they buy.

Dr. Hereford Garland, director of the Institute of Wood Research at Michigan Tech. Houghton, one of the agencies much concerned with the creation of more wood industry in the Upper Peninsula, told the Cooks meeting that the problems of the paper mill are solved with the aid of laboratory studies. The same thing is done with the problems of the paper converting mills.

What's needed to sell the Upper Peninsula's surplus wood, he suggested, is laboratory studies of the forest product to seek products that fit the species available. "We have got to adapt a process to the raw material and the demands of the market," he said.

Tech is at work on this problem with the aid of a grant of $30,200 from the $700,000 research fund appropriated by the Michigan Legislature in its last session. The grant will make it possible to hire a consulting firm to help explore possibilities like the food board market for U.P. wood.

There is a critical difference between hardwood (broad leaf trees) and softwood (pines, etc.) fibers in pulping and paper and board making. The U.P. has more hardwoods than softwoods. New technologies for the use of its hardwoods in pulping are important to the process of showing the paper industry that it can make money with a new mill in the eastern Upper Peninsula.

The forces working to create new paper industry in the area have never been as well organized or financed as they are today and they have never had as large a resource nor as much knowledge of it to work with. Typical of the new era of determination to create paper industry here is the action of the Michigan Conservation Commission authorizing a long-term sale of timber from state forests in the area. The U.S. Forest Service will do the same thing from federal forest lands.

As Dr. Garland said at Cooks: "You don't invest $30 or $50 million without knowing about your wood supply." More is being done to impress investors with the possibility of industrial profits in the Upper Peninsula than ever before in the history of its wood industry.

Lifting On Ludington

The Retail Division of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce and the Escanaba Banks sponsored a store front modernizing clinic at the Chamber Building recently which was well attended and which showed considerable interest in the project to improve the city's retailing district. Other communities in Delta County were invited to the clinic for the benefits of guidance from professionals in face lifting of communities' business areas.

The store front workshop was one phase of a larger project of the community to revitalize the business district by general improvement. Several studies have shown that the central business districts of all Upper Peninsula cities have been neglected. While communities have upgraded their schools and built new churches and other public buildings, their shopping districts have had little modernization.

The temptation for the small city merchant to avoid extra expense in running his business — he can sell quality merchandise as well in an old building as in a new one if his customers don't mind — is understandable. But the creation of a business district today is concerned not only with the provision of good things to buy at competitive prices, but also with an attractive public image for the area.

Studies of the nation's huge food merchandising industry project diminishing returns on investment. The days when a shell store with minimum fixtures and services could make a bundle are gone. The trend is toward more and more services and they cost money and cut into profit margins, but the see-saw to pull customers leaves chains no option but to dress up their stores and give the shopper a little something with the meats and groceries.

This is a lesson that communities should learn and implement to keep their retailing areas healthy.

Deserved Promotion

M. B. Dickerman, director of the Lake States Forest Experiment Station of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Forest Service at St. Paul for 13 years, has been transferred to Washington as the Forest Service's representative on the USDA's recently organized research program development staff.

It is a deserved promotion and the nation can look for expert guidance in USDA research development and evaluation from Dickerman.

His more than a decade at the Lake States Forest Experiment station has been very fruitful. It has been a period of eruptive emergence of scientific knowledge in forestry in America and Dickerman has been one of the leaders of the trend, preparing the nation and particularly the Lake States for a new era of silviculture in which the rule-of-thumb will be replaced by the laboratory.

Because of work by him and his colleagues, much more is known about trees and their forest environment than was known even a few years ago and everyone will be a beneficiary of this new knowledge. With its practical application after development our forests will be more productive of both wood and recreation; faster growing, higher quality, and their owners (where they are privately owned) should be more able to bear the unfair taxes heaped upon forests in Michigan.

Dickerman's great usefulness is being expanded by Washington office and it is an occasion for congratulations all around.

"Don't You Suppose We Oughta Shop Around For a New One?"

Washington Comment

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The Mars shot this month could lead eventually to scientific gains much greater than will be achieved by the moon program.

A private poll at a recent meeting of men working on space biology showed the average scientist in the group to be 75 to 80 per cent certain there is some sort of life on the red planet.

Mars and the earth have been going their separate ways for at least one billion years. Any vegetable or other life on Mars will certainly have developed along lines different from life on earth. A study of those differences is almost certain to lead to new discoveries about how the human body works.

Because radiation is heavy on Mars, any life there must have developed some way to protect itself under continued radiation. Such knowledge would be priceless to earth humans. Scientists are eager to see if the system used by Mars plants or other forms of life could be adapted to some sort of protection for men and women caught in nuclear raids.

Differences in the evolution of Mars and earth plant life could lead to experiments that could produce valuable new plant hybrids.

There is evidence of some sort of life on Mars in areas where the temperature varies from that of a cool room down to minus 200 degrees Fahrenheit every day. Discovery of the secret of this ability to withstand tremendous temperature changes would be priceless for agriculture.

Scientists here say that almost every time we have found groups of exotically different life—animal or plant or whatever—we have learned new things about ourselves.

In the past several decades, the sea has been "somewhat like Mars." That is, much of the life in the seas is greatly different from that on land.

Many important discoveries about man have been made by taking advantage of these differences.

One exotic or very different type of life in the ocean is the squid. The squid, fortunately, has a nerve fiber 10,000 times as large as those in human beings. By experiments with this creature, scientists have made great chemical advances in the treatment of nervous and mental disorders.

From this same squid, scientists have learned a great deal about what generates the electrical nerve impulse in humans and a great deal about the enzymatic process in nerves that enables nerves to transmit an impulse and recover quickly so as to be able to send another. From the squid, likewise, we have learned a great deal about those things that determine whether or not a nerve will react to a certain stimulus—and what raises or lowers the ability of nerves to react.

The squid has made possible new developments in chemical warfare and in defenses against chemical warfare. It has led to better insecticides.

Unusual plants or other life on Mars could lead to equally important discoveries. They will, of course, be years in coming.

Though there are Mars shots this month, the major close-up biological studies are several years away. A Mars orbit is planned for 1969. The landing of a package that will study Martian life (if any) and send back messages is planned for 1971 and again in 1973.

The Doctor Says:

Bell's Palsy Affects Eye

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

Q — I have Bell's palsy. My doctor said I should keep indoors as much as possible. What damage can too much wind do to my eye?

A — Bell's palsy is a paralysis of one side of the face. It usually comes on suddenly. The eyelid on the affected side cannot close completely. This may cause drying of the eye and an added risk of getting dust in it. Exposure to the weather would irritate your eye, but when you go out you could wear an eye shield. There may also be some drooling of saliva from the corner of your mouth. Furthermore, you will not be able to whistle or to wrinkle your brow on the involved side. Cortisone or a related drug often helps if it is given early in the course of this disease. About 80 per cent of the victims recover in 8 to 10 weeks. In those persons who do not recover spontaneously in the time, the condition is usually permanent.

Q — What is Alzheimer's disease? What causes it and how is it treated?

A — Alzheimer's disease is another name for senile dementia. As we reach advanced age there is always some shrinking of the brain, but only when the process becomes extreme is there any true dementia. The exact cause of the shrinking is not known, but it is apparently not due to hardening of the arteries in the brain. The progress of the disease is very gradual. The victim may become depressed or fearful. His behavior is unpredictable. Treatment in an institution is usually required.

Q — I have been taking Amphetol three times a day for some time. Is this drug harmful when taken regularly for a long time?

A — Amphetol is an aluminum hydroxide preparation that is recommended for heartburn, peptic ulcer and so-called acid indigestion. Although I would advise taking it only when you need it to relieve symptoms, it is true that many persons take it regularly for long periods without any harmful effects.

Q — My doctor says I have cardiovascular disease with dyspnea and palpitation. What is this and is it serious?

A — Cardiovascular disease is a disease of your heart and blood vessels. Dyspnea is shortness of breath and palpitation is an acute awareness of the beating of your heart. Since dyspnea and palpitation may be due to nervous apprehension as well as to serious heart disease, I cannot say how serious these symptoms are in your case. An indication of waterlogging, however, would be a sign of seriously impaired heart function.

AIRPORT NEEDS

At the last Escanaba City Council meeting a controversy arose relative to the operation of the Escanaba Municipal Airport.

I am involved with about as much air traffic as any individual in the area. This includes both North Central flights as well as charter flights. I am also involved with flight training.

North Central personnel have always been most helpful and cooperative. Like many others, I would prefer to see an evening flight from Escanaba. However, if the area does not generate enough passenger revenue to cause North Central to create this schedule, I shall continue to depart from either Iron Mountain or Green Bay or, as an alternate, use charter flights.

I use the charter service from Escanaba two to three times a month primarily to Milwaukee, but also to Minneapolis, Crystal Lake, Chicago, and Detroit. It has been economical, efficient, and safe. Mr. Jon Thorin's pilots have been capable and cooperative.

On incoming charter flights, I have been informed in advance of their landing so that adequate transportation can be waiting for incoming passengers.

I do have a concern about the airport, however, and it is with the terminal building. The present terminal building's sanitation facilities and parking lot certainly do not create much of an impression on incoming visitors—a good many of them from all over this country as well as foreign countries.

Modern and complete facilities will change the complexion of the airport to the betterment of all involved, and I'm sure will attract an ever-increasing amount of traffic both commercial and private, and both transient and residential.

Raymond O. Fish

BARBS

In order to keep from getting fat, some people leave the table after one serving. About all the others leave is the table.

How does a person expect to be taken at his face value if he is two-faced?

It may be a blooming nuisance putting in tulip bulbs right now, but think of the beautiful blooming come spring.

What the doctor says goes—too often right in one ear and out the other.

Some bears suffer insomnia and wake at the slightest noise. Grizzlies have been seen shuffling grumpily through forests in the dead of winter.

Memory Lane

By J. R. LOWELL

Ten Years Ago

Miss Sandra Shipman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Shipman, formerly of Escanaba, has won the Dean's List honors for her work in the second semester of her senior year at Emerson College in Boston, where she is majoring in drama. She is soon to appear in the school's presentation of the Bernard Shaw play "Major Barbara."

The Saturday Evening Post is featuring in its current issue an article concerning "Doctor" Samuel P. Hall, who a few months ago passed himself off in Manistique as a qualified physician and surgeon and then skipped out. He is now serving time for this imposition and several others of a like nature.

Henry N. Heric, 69, prominent Ensign resident and commercial fisherman, died yesterday following a long illness.

Twenty Years Ago

Donald Bruce Nicholson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Nicholson, of Manistique, was one of 90 men out of 1,200 whose applications to win enrollment in the freshmen class of Cincinnati, U. have been accepted.

The Rev. Fr. O'Neil D'Amour serving St. Joseph parish in Hancock, has been assigned to St. Anne's church, in Escanaba, succeeding Fr. Clifford Nadeau, who goes to Bessemer.

George MacLaurin, who entered the mercantile business in Manistique in 1886 and prior to that served in varied clerical capacities with the Chicago Lumber Co., died yesterday.

Thirty Years Ago

The Escanaba Yacht club decided to sponsor an ice regatta on Bay de Noc this coming winter. Sheldon Cobb was named chairman of the regatta committee.

J. K. Stack, of Escanaba, Democratic candidate for State Auditor General won the honor of being top vote getter in the City of Detroit.

Manistique's West Side is without city water at present. A leak has sprung up in the mains and it is of such sizeable proportions that drastic action had to be taken by the water department. The inconvenience will not be for long.

The Escanaba Daily Press has 95 per cent coverage in the City of Escanaba, 94 per cent in the City of Gladstone, 90 per cent in the City of Manistique and 83 per cent throughout Delta County. ## Ann Landers

Mother Is Only Protecting Car

Dear Ann Landers: I am a nine-year-old girl with a big problem. My father bought a brand new car two weeks ago. It is shiny and beautiful. My father said it is up to all members of the family to keep the car looking nice and new.

The first law my father made was that nobody is supposed to eat in the new car. A neighbor boy I like very much rides to his music lesson with me every Thursday. My mother picks me up right after school.

Last Thursday Ed got into our new car eating a baloney sandwich left over from his lunch. My mother told him to finish the sandwich before he got into the car. Ed said "O.K." but I could see he was very embarrassed.

I told my mother later I didn't think she should boss other people's children. She said to write to you for your advice. So I am writing. Please answer.—MONICA

Dear Monica: Your mother is not "bossing other people's children." She simply told Ed he could not eat in the car, which is her privilege.

Dear Ann Landers: You'd better check your arithmetic with reference to a recent column about the fellow who loaned his brother $2,000 two years ago and is having trouble collecting. You said "If his brother had paid him $25 a month the debt would have been half repaid by this time."

According to my calculations, $25 a month over a period of two years is $600—and that's a far cry from one half of $2,000. I would love to borrow money from you, Ann, on the basis of that kind of figuring. How about it?

I enjoy your column very much. Keep up the good work. But get yourself a calculating machine.—DAVID G. M. OF NEW BRITAIN, CONNECTICUT

Dear David: I can offer no explanation for the error except the obvious one, Stupidity. Ten lashes with the cord of an adding machine for Granny Annie. I am utterly ashamed of myself (and the character who is supposed to check my arithmetic).

Dear Ann Landers: You missed the boat in your answer to "Toe Tapper," the woman who complained because one of her relatives is constantly asking her to "hold the phone" while she lets the dog out, answers the door, turns down the flame under the soup, and so on.

Doesn't "Toe Tapper" realize the world doesn't stop revolving when the phone rings? Kids don't suddenly become angels. The dog doesn't know he is supposed to wait until his master gets off the phone. The person at the door doesn't know whether you are on the phone or not.

Maybe the woman who is irritated because she is kept hanging on the line should take the hint and get off. She is the rude one, in my book.

That particular column was sent to me in a plain envelope with no signature and I think I know who sent it. Next time the witch calls I plan to cut her short and tell her I have more important things to do—like letting the dog out or answering the doorbell.—ANOTHER MOLLY

Dear Molly: If your friend reads my column, and obviously she does, you won't need to tell her anything. After she sees this letter in the paper I doubt that you'll be hearing from her.

Confidential to FINDING IT DIFFICULT TO LOVE MY NEIGHBOR: Granted. It sounds cheap and disgraceful, but nobody is asking you to love them. Pull down your own window shades and get some rest.

Confidential to YOUNG AT HEART: Congratulations. If you marry this chicken I hope your heart can take it, Dad.

"The Bride's Guide," ANN LANDERS' booklet gives authoritative and complete information on how to plan a wedding. To receive your copy of this comprehensive guide, write to Ann Landers, in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35c in coin.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped and self-addressed envelope.

Illness Fatal To Fred Picard

Fred Joseph Picard, 78, of Escanaba Rte. 1, died at St. Francis Hospital Monday at 3:15 p.m. He had been ill three days.

Mr. Picard was born in Lake Linden Aug. 8, 1886. He is survived by his widow, the former Mrs. Mary Gagnon, whom he married April 5, 1956; two sons, Ralph of West Bend, Wis., and Roy R. of Medford, Ore.; three sisters, Mrs. William St. Aubin, Ontario, Canada, Mrs. Ludgerine Bedard, Escanaba, and Mrs. Anna Potvin, Detroit; one brother, Albert, Menominee; eight grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

He also leaves eight stepchildren, Mrs. Elsie Hopkins, Lancaster, Calif., Ernest Gagnon, Park Forest, Ill., Mrs. Leonard Paquette, Muskegon, Henry Gagnon, Whitney, Mrs. Raymond Stoken, Manistique, Edward Gagnon, Park Forest, Mrs. Stan Olskewski, Trenton, Lyle Gagnon, Park Forest.

Friends may call at the Boyce Funeral Home from 3 to 9:30 p.m. Wednesday. Parish prayers will be recited there at 8:15 p.m. Services will be held Thursday at 9 a.m. at St. Anthony's Church in Wells with Father Norbert Freiburger officiating. Burial will be in the family lot in Schaffer Cemetery.

Niagara Home To Invite Public

NIAGARA, Wis. — Maryhill Manor Nursing and Retirement Home Advisory Board met Nov. 4 at the home to review remodeling which is progressing rapidly. Mrs. Paul Scholz of Niagara was named to explain details of the dedication to be held with private invitation only on Nov. 22, with Bishop Bona officiating. A Nurses Tea will be held Tuesday, Nov. 29.

Members of the board are: Sisters M. Monica and M. Paul, Mother Rose, Sister Mark and Sister M. Annette, Bob Marcouiller, Marie Scholz, Viola Kososki, Gil Heard, Dorothy Person, Della Gordon, Cliff Murray, William LaFave, Dick VanHimbergen and Peter Gron.

County Holding To Law; Drive Plowing Is Out

The Delta County Road Commission is holding to Michigan law and has taken no action to restore the plowing of private driveways, which is not permitted by state statute.

The controversial situation was unchanged today after an all-day meeting of the Road Commission at Bay View Monday. At the morning session about 40 persons (including some township supervisors) asked the Road Commission to alter its decision and plow driveways again this coming winter.

The decision to observe the state law and not to plow private driveways was first made a year ago and has been reaffirmed by the Road Commission at its last four meetings, including that of yesterday.

"An attempt will be made by the Road Commission to meet with township boards and discuss any avenue or approach that is legally open," said William J. Karas, Commission superintendent-engineer.

Need Law Change
"That the Road Commission is sympathetic toward the people and would like to do anything it can to help under the law is indicated, I think, by the fact that driveways have been plowed for the last 30 years."

The Road Commission, composed of Elmer R. Klasel, Earl Paquin, and Hilding Norstrom is appointed by the Delta County Board of Supervisors.

Decision by the Road Commission to halt driveway plowing was made a year ago and was agreed upon by the Board of Supervisors, but this fall the Supervisors made a turn-about and asked the Commission to continue plowing, although Prosecuting Attorney Nicholas P. Chapekis advised that the Commission does not under present law have authority to plow driveways.

Rep. Einar Erlandsen at the Monday morning meeting told the group that he will sponsor legislation to correct the situation—if he is assured by the courts that the county will be immune from suit in the event of accidents occurring on the private drives.

The possibility of suit against the county is like a cloud over the driveway plowing operation, for the courts have held that government is no longer immune from suits for damages.

For the Road Commission to continue plowing private drives would also jeopardize three-quarter million dollars in road revenue to the county from the state, Karas said.

Alternatives suggested to solve the situation in the winter ahead included driveway plowing by private contractor. Last winter there were 377 driveway plowing customers in Delta County served by the Road Commission.

In other business the Road Commission Monday accepted the contract with the Michigan State Highway Department to maintain 130 miles of state trunklines at a cost of approximately $130,000 in the years ahead.

The Commission also approved the purchase of two sanding machines from the Bark River Culvert & Equipment Co. the decision on the type of equipment to be made later under the alternate bid proposal. The bid was one of four received.

Troubador Smiley Joe Tries For Hit Record

"Smiley Joe" Omohundro has taken off for California after a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brigham Illey Mohundro of Fayette.

Smiley Joe's real name is Wellman Wiley Omohundro and his difference with his parents in the spelling of the family name is not an effort on his part to be theatrical, but just a return to the original form of the name, he says, with his own slight variation.

"We've got a book on our family tree," said Smiley Joe "and it spells it O'Mohundro. Some say it's an old Irish name, but no one is sure. I went down to Goochland, Virginia to visit Melvin Hill O'Mohundro who wrote a history of the family. He's dead now. He traced the family back to 1670 and it took him four years to write the book. He thought the family came from Ireland, but said it might have come from India."

In Every State

Smiley Joe advertises himself as the "Traveling Troubador." He's a singing cowboy and recording artist and he has performed in every state in the union except the two new ones, Alaska and Hawaii, and has toured Canada and Mexico. He has performed in the Delta area, but several years ago. There isn't a clamor for his act here, he says, explaining "I haven't got a 'name.' If you have a hit record it makes a big difference, but I've never had one."

"I've made at least 20 different records, including a half dozen in the last three weeks." Some of Smiley Joe's recordings include, "The Moon Was Yellow and I Was a Little

Smiley Joe

Chicken Myself." "I Don't Drink To Get Drunk — I Just Like To Get Drunk." "Do You Cheat On Your Wife?" "Shut Up, You Talk Too Much." "Money's Made Me A Beggar." "Nervous In The Service." (He was in the 107th Engineers, 32nd Division and not very nervous.)

He drops off a lot of his records at radio stations. He started making records about two years ago. Some of them are funny and some, like "There'll Be No Tomorrow, I've Lived My Last Today," are sentimental.

Best Number

Smiley Joe is headed for Hollywood in his vanette. He'll be looking for bookings for his single act. He plays a harmonica and guitar and sings at dance halls, bars and night clubs and his type of entertainment "seems more in demand," he says, in the West and in Texas. "California's best, but New York's good, too. I played around New York this summer during the fair."

"I've had more response to 'Pistol Packin' Mama' than any other song. Al Dexter wrote the song, but I changed the words to it. One of my own best is 'The Moon Was Yellow And I Was a Little Chicken Myself.'"

"I'm mostly self-taught, but I've taken a few lessons on violin and banjo. I usually dress Western, but I find in this area that they make so much fun of it that I just dress regular. I'm playing my way back to California."

"My father operated King Koin laundry in Gladstone, but he sold out. He's retired now. He plans to travel, especially in the Holy Land."

People Like Laughs

Smiley Joe said that he didn't think that country and folk music is increasing. "The Beatles are the big thing now," he said. "They've made several million dollars. I'm still on my first million and not doing so well, so I think I'll give up the first and start on the second."

"I haven't changed my act much over the years — I've been at it since 1948 — but I try to turn out a little more humor. People like to laugh. They want something funny."

"Television has cut in on the troubador business and there are so many acts that it's hard to break in. They all ask you if you have a hit record. I'm still in there trying. It's not only the song and the way you sing it. The background music helps

Cub Scouts Organization Held At Wells

WELLS — An organizational meeting of Cub Scouts was held last evening at Wells Central School.

George Semmens gave a talk on Scouting, what it is, how it is organized and how it is financed. He also spoke on the monthly theme for Scouts.

Since next Monday is in deer season, the next meeting will be held at the John Cary home, 11 University Ave., Wells, Thursday, Nov. 12, and all interested men and women are asked to attend to establish dates of future meetings and to fill vacancies.

Offset Plant

ST. CLAIR SHORES, Mich.

—A new printing source for publishers of daily and weekly newspapers and other periodicals in Michigan and northern Ohio and Indiana will be available Dec. 1. Tweedle Litho Co., in suburban Detroit, announces the installation of a new four-unit web offset press capable of producing 20,000 copies of a 64-page tabloid per hour without collating. This will be the largest offset newspaper press in Michigan.

sell a song. The fellow who wrote the song "Dang Me, I'll Take a Rope and Hang Me," sold over a million records and I think the background music made the song. The lead guitar did the weeping and it went over."

Smiley Joe has actually been a cowboy. He worked cattle in Texas and Arizona. He didn't know how to play the guitar then. He got his first guitar while working in a Corpus Christi gas station.

The White House originally was known as the president's palace.

NEW ROLE FOR ELLIS ISLAND?—Ellis Island, a 26-acre sand bar in New York harbor, was once the first American soil touched by millions of immigrants. Decaying for a decade, it may soon become a National Historical Site with recreational and cultural facilities. Interior Secretary Stewart Udall has made such a recommendation to the President. This is a recent photo of the battered main building, which may become a museum.

"It'll come in handy in my old age," said Barton sadly.

Funeral services will be held in Calumet Wednesday.

Presidents Chester Arthur, Grover Cleveland and Woodrow Wilson were the sons of ministers.

Achievers Hear Businessmen

Ideas, courage and money are necessary to the establishment of a corporation but none are guarantees of success, Escanaba Junior Achievement was told at a meeting last night.

The speakers at the meeting of the Escanaba JA were Hubert Shepeck, industrialist and Percy Rosemurgy, Escanaba businessman. They were introduced by Dwayne Burak, JA manager.

Shepeck described the history of a local lumber company and how it gradually developed into the extensive corporation of today.

Rosemurgy gave the group information concerning the amount of capital necessary to start a corporation, the buying and selling of stock, and what determines the rise and fall of prices in stock exchange.

The essentials needed to begin a corporation, Rosemurgy said, are one thousand dollars in capital, an idea, and the courage to back up your ideas. Yet 30 per cent of the ideas that began corporations will fail in the future.

The meeting was the first of a series that will bring to the young people of Junior Achievement reports and talks by local business leaders and executives.

Gunshot Fatal

LUDINGTON (AP) — Burton (Sam) Johnson, 13, died early today at Paulina Stearns Hospital where he was admitted Sunday with a gunshot wound of the abdomen suffered in a target practice accident.

Police Chief Harold Mehl said the boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Johnson of Ludington, was struck by the charge from a .410 shotgun which fired while being reloaded by a 14-year-old companion.

Briefly Told

The Escanaba Area Board of Education will meet at 8 o'clock tonight in the School Administration Building.

The Delta County Court House will be closed Wednesday in observance of Veterans Day.

Escanaba police have issued a traffic court summons to Darwin Stellmacher, Ripon, Wis., for defective brakes.

Delta County Girl Scout office will be closed the remainder of this week and will reopen Monday, Nov. 16.

A Veterans Day volley will be fired at 11 a. m. Wednesday at the corner of Ludington Ave. and 11th St. All local veterans organizations will meet in uniform at the City Police station at 10:30 a. m.

The Third Order of St. Francis rosary for Miss Sophie Stern, scheduled for this evening at the Alto Funeral Home has been cancelled. Parish prayers will be recited at 8 p. m.

Application for a marriage license was made Tuesday at the County Clerk's office by Dennis Quinten Wellman, 909 1st Ave. N., Escanaba, and Kathleen Roseline Shannon, 822 Delta Ave., Gladstone.

Catholic Information series topics for this week are: Tuesday, "The Mass: Christ Offers Sacrifice to His Father; Thursday, "Demonstration Mass, Vestments, Vessels, Rites." The meetings will be held from 8 to 9 p. m. in St. Anne's parish hall.

Padre Island is a legendary pirate lair and haunt of cannibals on the Texas coast.

Reference Calls Get 'Hot Line'

A "hot line" to speed up reference services to 18 newly organized library system serving over 5.2 million people in 26 counties of Michigan went into effect Nov. 2, at the State Library in Lansing, according to Genevieve M. Casey, state librarian.

Some 172 local libraries are members of the 18 new systems and funnel requests, formerly handled by mail, through designated centers. Scheduled daily telephone calls on the "hot line" to the center for each system will enable the State Library to begin immediate work on book and information requests too specialized for local libraries.

Two benefits of the "hot line" are a definite reduction in service time and a considerable expansion of service potential through interloans from larger network libraries.

For materials not available in the State Library, an immediate interlibrary loan can be made from another center.

Library systems forming the network, centering in the State Library in Lansing, are headquartered in Birmingham, Dearborn, Detroit, Flint, Grand Rapids, Kent County, Traverse City, Ingham County, Macomb County, Warren, Cadillac, Iron Mountain (calling through the State Library Upper Peninsula Branch), Monroe County, Muskegon County, Pontiac, Saginaw, Ann Arbor and Wayne County.

Bank Was 'Piggy'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Herman Slavsky gave his 9-year-old daughter, Carol, $10 for her birthday so that she could open her first bank account.

She was filling out a bank application when she came to the line asking the name of her former bank. Carol wrote: "Piggy" in big bold letters.

Ferry Vital To Growth: Bowden

By AL SANDNER
Associated Press Writer

LANSING (AP) — The Upper Peninsula has a great economic potential which would be damaged seriously by a proposed series of railroad abandonments, says Peter Spivak, chairman of the Michigan Public Service Commission (NPSC).

Spivak was backed up by Elbert Bowden, executive director of the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Progress as the state presented its case against the abandonments Monday.

Public officials and private businessmen joined in the fight.

The Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads are seeking to abandon some 280 miles of track in the northern Lower Peninsula. They also have asked permission to abandon a railroad ferry across the Straits of Mackinac, which is owned by the two railroads—in conjunction with the Soo Line.

State Opposed
Spearheaded by Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley, the state has launched an all-out attack against the proposed abandonments. It began presenting its case Monday before Hyman Blond, Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) hearings examiner. It was expected to wind up Wednesday or Thursday.

Spivak cited plans by the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. to build pipelines and natural gas distribution facilities in the western U.P. at a cost of $14.1 million, a request by the Northern Natural Gas Co. to spend $36.5 million on a similar project, and a request to the Federal Power Commission by the Trans-Canada Pipeline Co. to build a line across the peninsula.

"Our experience has been that gas companies do not invest in an area unless they are confident it has a good future," he said. "Natural gas also makes an area more attractive to new industry."

There will be a growing need for rail service and for service through the "Mackinac Gateway," he said.

Spivak argued the railroads cannot afford to abandon this profit-making service, adding:

"I believe they rushed into these abandonment applications without first carefully reviewing the adverse financial impact on themselves...it was only after accumulating and preparing the date for presentation to the ICC that it became apparent to them that they were seeking to reduce their over-all profits."

Railroads Losing
The railroads would have lost $384,000 in Michigan last year if they had abandoned the service in question, an MPSC accountant said.

Senior staff accountant Joseph Barden said he re-computed 1963 earnings of the two companies without the revenues earned on the track in question. Even after deducting savings in costs, he said, Pennsylvania would have lost $191,788, and New York Central would have lost $193,000.

Both railroads presented their cases earlier.

Robert Richardson, traffic manager for the White Pine Copper Co., said his firm spends $2 million a year to ship its ore via the Soo Line Railroad.

Sixty-one per cent of its shipping, he said, goes across the Straits of Mackinac. To re-route it through Manistique would be difficult and through Sault Ste. Marie would be impossible, he added.

Alternate routes would add hundreds of miles to rail shipments out of and into the Upper Peninsula, said Otto Sonefeld, director of the railroad division of the MPSC. Some of the increases would amount to as much as 92.5 per cent, he said.

M. Monte Wray, mayor of Bay City, presented Blond with a resolution by the Bay City Commission opposing the abandonments.

Bowden Testifies

Dr. E. V. Bowden, executive director of UPACAP, testified that the abandonment of the Mackinac Straits ferry would be like cutting off the eastern tip of Upper Peninsula and relocating it on Keweenaw Bay. Bowden was appearing as a witness at the Michigan ferry abandonment proceedings in Lansing Monday.

He said that there can be many kinds of economic expansion in Northern Michigan, but that it is generally recognized that the most outstanding opportunities for industrial expansion are found in the wood-products industry. And most kinds of firms in this industry must depend for their economic health on the availability of efficient rail transportation.

He presented evidence of this fact and evidence of actual and potential expansions in the wood-products industry. "If the rail ferry service at the Straits is abandoned, none of these large integrated potential operations will be likely to establish themselves in the eastern part of the Upper Peninsula," he said.

"The easternmost Upper Peninsula is at a locational disadvantage for many of the Midwestern markets—but it does have one definite advantage: proximity to downstate Michigan markets."

"When you petition for the abandonment of the rail ferry service at the Mackinac Straits, you suggest in a very real sense that from the point of view of rail transportation, the easternmost U. P., including Sault Ste. Marie and St. Ignace, be severed from the remainder of the Peninsula and relocated in the approximate area of Keweenaw Bay. In few instances could the apparently simple act of discontinuing a rail ferry have such far reaching impact on the economic development potential of an area."

Capacity Is Asset
"The Mackinac ferry should not be abandoned," Bowden said, "just because it has excess capacity. The reason the development potential of the eastern Upper Peninsula is as great as it is, is precisely because of excess capacity there."

We have excess capacity in our forests, in our labor force, in our transportation and utilities installations—and this is the base which underlies the growth which is now beginning in this area. If we cut back to eliminate the excess capacity in any one of these essential economic factors, we will perpetuate this excess capacity in all the other factors."

"There are two ways to get rid of excess capacity. One way is to cut back. The other is to expand activity to fill the excess. I don't see the people at Edison Sault Co., for example, cutting down their electric lines simply because they are not carrying all the electricity they are capable of carrying. The people at Edison Sault are out working with UPACAP, with the Michigan Department of Economic Expansion, with Operation Action-U. P., and with all the others of us who are helping the area to realize the outstanding potential for expansion which now exists."

This is the third series of hearings on the ferry issue. It is scheduled to continue in Lansing through most of this week.

African Hunter To Show Movies

Big game hunting in Africa will be shown on film at the William Oliver Auditorium Wednesday, starting at 8 p. m., in a program sponsored by the Bay de Noc Beagle Club.

Showing the thrills of stalking and killing the dangerous beasts of the Dark Continent will be famed hunter Joseph J. Purzycki of Flint. He is an expert in big game hunting in Alaska, Canada and North America in addition to Africa. Purzycki will display some of the trophies of his hunts.

Committee Will Study Reduction Of Bridge Tolls

MARQUETTE — Dr. Kenneth Parkhurst, acting head of the department of economics at Northern Michigan University, has been appointed by Gov. George Romney to a five-man study committee to evaluate the present financing method of the Mackinac Bridge.

Romney also has asked the committee to make recommendations on the feasibility of reducing the toll rates on the bridge. The study will include an analysis of the probable economic impact on the Upper Peninsula were the toll rates to be reduced.

Named chairman of the committee is Frank G. Millard, Flint attorney and former state attorney general. Other members are D. Hale Brake of Stanton, State Association of Supervisors; Harry R. Hall, Lansing, Michigan State Chamber of Commerce; and Guy H. Hammel, Cedarville, realtor.

California Condor Extinction Feared

TUCSON, Ariz. — There are about 40 of the great California condors surviving today compared to about 60 fifteen years ago, a research team reported at the annual convention of the National Audubon Society.

Researchers attributed the decline of this endangered species principally to one factor: the wide-ranging adult birds are being shot by irresponsible or ignorant gunners faster than the breeding pairs can replace the losses.

Obituary

MRS. GRACE S. COUILLARD
Funeral services were held this morning from the Anderson Funeral Home chapel at 10:30 a. m. for Mrs. Grace S. Couillard with the Rev. Fr. Arnold Thompson officiating.

Burial was made in Gardens of Rest Cemetery. Pallbearers were sons, Leonard, Oliver, Norbert, Robert, Ormal and Clifford.

MRS. ANNA BLAKE

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Blake, originally scheduled for 9 a. m. Wednesday from the Degnan Funeral Home, will be held at 10 a. m. The Parish vigil will begin at 8 p. m. today.

Vote Results Are Unchanged

Official canvass of Delta County voting in last Tuesday's general election revealed little change from unofficial vote totals.

President Lyndon B. Johnson still overwhelmed Barry Goldwater and Gov. George Romney outpolled Neil Staebler.

There was no serious irregularities, though several townships had minor differences between their statement and tally books on the totals for State Board of Education candidates Phil Parker and Thurber, according to County Clerk William E. Butler.

Butler said the differences, which caused some delay in the canvassing, were remedied.

Hair Styling Sessions Held In Escanaba

Escanaba Affiliate 65, Michigan Cosmetologists Association, held a technique session and workshop Sunday and Monday of this week at the Sherman Hotel. Guest artists were Carol Lee Sprague of Lansing, a member of the Michigan Hair Fashion committee, and William Sneden, coordinator and instructor at Ferris State College, Big Rapids.

Hair fashions from "Flirtation Coiffure Collection" for autumn and winter were shown by the artists Sunday. Yesterday, operators participated in the workshop with their models, producing many variations of the new trend.

Operators from Escanaba, Gladstone and Iron Mountain attending included Jill Bast, Signe Cameron, Eva Caron, Murrial Fry, Phil and Connie George, Helen Gunkel, Ed Hurley, LaVerne and Ralph Peterson, Joyce Keane, Jeanne Kirschner, Dolly Maltor, Ebba Nevins, Orise Kent, Louise Weissert, Eleanor Lee, Margie Sviland, Pat Walker, Bill Plante, Eva Romagnoli, Jean Perla and Alli Salminen.

A small amount of cooked green peas in the refrigerator? Add to chicken broth and serve piping hot.

Women's Activities

Keeping well-groomed during pregnancy does much for the morale. Set bathroom aides within safe, easy reach. Legs and feet (left) get special care with a long-handled bath brush. Use comfortable-height stool and rinse legs under shower after massage. A shower caddy (right), suspended from the shower head, holds soap, sponge, brushes and washcloths conveniently. Rubber mat in tub or shower stall is essential safety factor. Also part of the hygienic routine that makes the expectant mother feel better is dental care. An electric toothbrush (inset) helps stimulate gums while cleaning.

Chase Those 'Expectant' Blues

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Beauty Editor

Pregnant and in the middle of the waiting game? The tendency at this juncture is to let down a bit in your daily grooming routine. When you do, your spirits will follow.

A bath, a facial and an extra foot soak are effective morale builders. Also a weekly shampoo, or a visit to your favorite beauty salon, prove special treats—not just necessities—because you want to feel and look attractive.

Births

LIEGEOIS—Mr. and Mrs. John Liegeois, 7127 West Arthur St., Milwaukee, are the parents of a daughter, Schelli Marie, born Nov. 4 at 3:10 a. m. The new member of the family, who weighed 7 pounds and 5 ounces at birth, has one brother, Bart, Mrs. Liegeois is the former Judy Vincent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Vincent Sr. of Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Liegeois of Powers are Mr. Liegeois' parents. The infant is a great grandchild of Mrs. Dan Beauchamp, 409 S. 13th St.

Since showers rather than tub baths are recommended during the last months of pregnancy, make them luxurious with bath props. For additional safety, assemble soap, bath sponge, body brush and washcloth in a caddy suspended conveniently from the neck of the shower head.

Added security comes from a nonslip rubber mat in the bottom of the tub.

And with the additional pounds carried during pregnancy leg and foot fatigue are inevitable. Give them special care and you will find relaxing them makes you more comfortable.

A long-handled back brush doubles for a foot-sudser and massager so you won't have to bend. Sit on a stool of comfortable height with your feet on a bath mat and thoroughly scrub your toes, soles, heels and ankles. Step into the

Bark River

Veterans Service

Members of Rheume-Knauf American Legion Post, Bark River, are to report at Bark River Community Hall Wednesday at 10:45 a. m. to conduct Veterans Day memorial services at the park site.

Dances Cancelled

Teen-age dances Friday evenings, sponsored by Bark River Rheume-Knauf American Legion Post, have been cancelled until further notice.

Busy Session At Meeting Of VFW Auxiliary

Members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Ladies Auxiliary had an inspection, a business session and a social at their regular meeting Monday evening at the club rooms.

Mrs. Gladys Turner of Menominee, Department past president, conducted the inspection. She was accompanied here by Mrs. Luella Peach, a past president of the Menominee Auxiliary.

Application for membership were received from Irene Lynch, Eva Courier, Evelyn Ducheny and Bette Simons. Initiated were Elise Blowers, Clara Nelson, Evelyn Ducheny, Delima Pilon and Sarah Cline.

Donations were made to the V.F.W. National Home and Michigan TB Association and Rose Donovan, cancer chairman, reported a generous donation was received from members for the local Auxiliary Cancer Fund. Letters of appreciation from VA Hospitals in Iron Mountain and Battle Creek were read.

Joyce Johnson, Americanism chairman, reminded members to display flags Nov. 11, Veterans' Day.

Plans were made for a rummage sale Nov. 20 at the hall, the children's Christmas party with Marie Erickson, chairman, and the annual Christmas party at the Dec. 14 meeting.

Betty Anzalone and her committee served lunch to Auxiliary and Post members. A film on the National Home was shown during the social. Rose Marie Anderson received the attendance award.

Company coming? For a delightful salad, add orange sections and small sweet onion rings to mixed greens; toss with French dressing made with olive oil and tarragon vinegar.

Church Events

Central Methodist

Wednesday meetings at Central Methodist Church are Junior Choir rehearsal at 4 p. m., Chancel Choir rehearsal at 7 p. m. and Senior High Youth Fellowship meeting at the church at 8:15 p. m.

First Presbyterian

The schedule for Wednesday at First United Presbyterian Church includes Youth Choir at 3:30 p. m., Sanctuary Choir at 7 p. m., Senior High Fellowship at 8 p. m. and Women's Association Circle V at 8:15 p. m.

Christian Science Society

"Mortals and Immortals" will be the subject of a Lesson-Sermon this Sunday in all Christian Science churches.

Golden Text: "Ye were sometimes darkness, but now are ye light in the Lord: walk as children of light" (Eph 5:8). Scriptural readings will range from the story of Noah's ark in Genesis to Paul's letter to the Galatians (3:26)—"For ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus."

Related readings from the denominational textbook will include this statement: "The eternal Truth destroys what mortals seem to have learned from error, and man's real existence as a child of God come to light" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 288).

Senior Citizens Meet Wednesday

Senior Citizen Social Club will have a regular meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at Club 314. Membership cards will be available at the meeting. Dancing and cards will provide entertainment and lunch will be served. Mrs. Elizabeth Gerou and Mrs. Chester Schoen are members of the hostess committee.

Trenary

Mr. and Mrs. Kent Cox and son, Trenton are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gregg accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Marion Sloan, Gladstone, to Duluth to visit Mr. and Mrs. Everett Sloan.

Mrs. Alice Bush spent the weekend in Roseville with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Leibner and family have returned to Cheboygan after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Vance Davis.

The Junior Class of the Trenary School is taking orders for pasties to be sold on Saturday, Nov. 14.

Mrs. Donald Kallio is at home after being a surgical patient at Munising Memorial Hospital.

Nail Condition

The condition of your fingernails often hints at a changing state of health. An envelope a day of unflavored gelatin still is a help in restoring brittle, rippled or cracked nails. A medical test showed this worked in seven out of 10 cases. Since it takes 60 to 90 days for your nails to grow, you must continue the treatment for the full period.

To the 5 out of 10 people who didn't believe this ad...

a sporting proposition

Take a no-obligation test drive in a 1965 Ford. Maybe you just couldn't believe the ad (reprinted above) which appeared in this paper a few weeks ago. After all, many consider Rolls-Royce to be one of the world's finest cars. But Ford does ride quieter. The world's leading acoustical experts (Bolt, Beranek and Newman, Inc.) made the tests. The U.S. Auto Club certified the results.

This year's Ford has the strongest body ever... a revolutionary new frame that "tunes out" vibrations... new ultrasoft coil-spring suspensions—all contributing to the new hushed ride. But the ride is only part of what's new.

■ New swept-back instrument panel adds five inches extra knee room. ■ Transmission tunnel is lower than in competing cars for extra foot room. ■ Trunk has more usable space than ever—holds four 2-suiters standing upright.

■ New ultra-luxurious LTD series—unmatched by any other car in Ford's class. ■ Silent-Flo ventilation (standard on 4-door hardtops) removes stale air, provides fresh air even with all windows closed. ■ Exclusive new twin-edge key—works with either side up.

■ Hot, but hushed, 289-cu. in. V-8 is standard equipment in XL and LTD models.

■ Smooth, thrifty all-new Big Six in other models—the most powerful standard Six offered by any car in Ford's class. ■ V-8 options to 425 hp.

■ All Ford automatic transmissions have 3 speeds, not 2 as in many competing cars. ■ Fully synchronized manual transmissions—you can even shift down to first without clashing gears.

If all this sounds like a lot for one car to offer... take a test drive. See why more people are buying Fords than ever before in post-war history.

Women's Activities

Group Attending Girl Scout Conference

Mrs. George Douglas, Council president and Mrs. Stephen Fraddo of Escanaba, Mrs. Clara Fredrickson and Mrs. Milburn Nolan of Gladstone, will leave on Wednesday for Chicago where they will attend the Great Lakes regional Girl Scout conference. They represent the Delta County Girl Scout council and will attend meetings Nov. 11, 12 and 13.

About 3,000 women (and some men, too) from Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin are expected to participate in the conference which marks the close of the first full year of the new Girl Scout program design. In the fall of 1963, Girl Scout troops across the country made the transition from the three age levels to the present four: Brownies, 7-8 year-olds; Juniors, 9-11; Cadettes, 12-14 and Seniors 15-17.

Featured speakers at the general sessions include author-humorist Emily Kimbrough, Dr. Jeanne L. Noble, professor at New York university's center for human relations and a member of the Girl Scout national board, Bishop Richard C. Raines of the Indiana area, Methodist church, and Shirley M. Carson, assistant to the director of the Girl Scout program department.

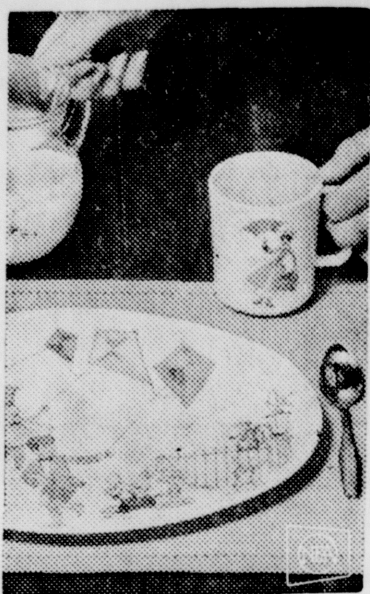

Also scheduled are 24 group sessions where Girl Scout leaders can sharpen their techniques in troop leadership, camping and adult education.

Nearly 600,000 girls and adults are Girl Scouts in the Great Lakes region.

Also attending from the Delta County Council is Mrs. John Fawcett of Escanaba.

Social-Club Wait Watchers Meeting

Wait Watchers TOPS Club will meet with Miss Ingrid Tervonen Wednesday, Nov. 11, at 7:30 p. m. in the Delta County Building. Members are asked to have their three-day menu and activities charts with them.

FOR SMALL eaters: Small fry who've outgrown infant feeding sets but can't quite handle a full dinnerware will enjoy this in-between melamine dining set (see photo). Oval plates and sturdy handled mugs feature "Mary Poppins," of story book and movie fame, her friends and children. Lassie and cartoon characters are other new designs in break-resistant melamine for children.

Soo Hill PTA Regular Meeting Thursday Night

The Soo Hill PTA will hold its monthly meeting Thursday, Nov. 12, at 8 p. m. at the school.

Tom Hughson, 7th grade teacher at the Junior High School will present an informative program, including the film, "Our Schools Have Kept Us Free." A short public relations talk on the MEA will be given by Glenn Gamble, also a teacher in Junior High.

Luther M. Barrett, superintendent of the Escanaba Area Public School System, will attend the meeting.

Discussion of plans for the ice rink will take place during the business session. The social hour will be in charge of Mrs. Harvey Fournier, assisted by fourth grade room mothers.

Soo Hill PTA unit now has a membership of 87.

Anniversary Party Honors William Caseys

WELLS—Mr. and Mrs. William Casey were guests of honor at a party held Sunday at their cottage on the occasion of their 41st wedding anniversary.

Guests were Mrs. Marie Seiler of Norway Lake, Mrs. Jane Campbell, Leo Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. William Knapp, William Meyers, all of Ralph, Robert Souzy and Marge Johnson of Marquette, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Peserento of Green Bay, Mrs. Caroline Rouke and Fred Mannein of Northland.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Toussaint, Robert Boucher, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Casey, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Dishno, Mr. and Mrs. John Cousineau, Mr. and Mrs. Emery Skradski, Escanaba, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Longtine, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schmeltzer and Mr. and Mrs. James Casey of Wells.

School Recess

In observance of American Education Week, Wells Central School will be closed Thursday and Friday for parent-teacher conferences.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Schimmel of Neenah were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wright over the weekend. Mrs. Schimmel is the former Pat Wright.

Cooks

The Community Club met Oct. 27 at the town hall to elect new officers. Mrs. Peter Thelander is president, William Hanidl, vice president, Mrs. Maurice Chandler, secretary and Mrs. Roy Landis, treasurer. Reports were received on progress for the new ice rink. The next meeting is Nov. 24.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Johnson and family of Post Falls, Idaho, visited Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Siddall and attended the funeral of his father, Alvin Johnson.

Word has been received of the death Nov. 7 of Charles Anderson, former resident, in St. Ignace. Those attending the funeral will include Joseph Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. David Scott of Fort Knox, Ky., are the parents of a son born Oct. 1. Mrs. Scott is the former Beverly Erickson. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Erickson.

Matthew Walter has been named as a representative on the new 18-man board for the intermediate school district of Delta and Schoolcraft counties.

The timber conference held at Cooks town hall Nov. 6 was well attended.

Rev. and Mrs. Neil McShane have returned after attending a woman's conference meeting of the Christian World Mission assembly in Traverse City.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvid Snellenberger of Green Bay spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Thelander.

Trenary

Meade-Kayser

Liston, Clay Pronounced Physically Fit For Bout

BOSTON (AP) — Sonny Liston's left shoulder is A-O-K for his heavyweight title rematch with Cassius Clay on Nov. 16 but the champion already has proclaimed himself the winner and is looking for the rabbit—former champion Floyd Patterson.

Both Clay and Liston were pronounced in perfect condition by Dr. Nathan Shapiro, Massachusetts Boxing Commission physician, at a preliminary medical check Monday.

Minutes earlier, Clay staged one of his side shows, snarling traffic on Commonwealth Avenue and drawing the attention he sought in a mock hunt for the Big Bear, his name for Liston.

Chief concern of Dr. Shapiro's examination was the left shoulder which was injured and caused Liston to lose his title to Clay after six rounds in Miami last February.

"I can find no restriction of motion," Dr. Shapiro said. "The biceps and entire muscular system has been rebuilt completely since the injury."

Liston, a 9-to-5 favorite in the Las Vegas line, said "I would say I'd win in less than 15 rounds. I'm in better shape than I've ever been in my life. Beyond that I leave the talking up to Clay."

Clay, who did not confront Liston face-to-face but did run alongside his car as the latter arrived and left, again predicted he would win in nine rounds, "maybe before that." He raised nine fingers for cameramen and hailed it as "another great prediction."

"I figure the guy's afraid," said Clay. "It's do or die for him. He's going to be desperate. I figure he'll talk me. I figure he's going to wait for me. I figure he'll beat even worse than that way. I'm a much better boxer. I'm going to hit him a lot to the body."

"I know we are going to win. After we win we want the rabbit—Patterson. I think of Liston as the hunter and Patterson as the rabbit."

Boxing Commission Chairman Herman Greenberg reminded newsmen that the contract included a clause that the winner of the coming fight must meet one of the first four rated contenders and that $50,000 of the winner's purse will be retained to assure compliance. The contenders presumably will come from the Ring Magazine ratings since the World Boxing Association refuses to recognize the fight or Clay as champion.

Cookie Keeps Rushing Lead

NEW YORK (AP) — Cookie Gilchrist, Buffalo's crashing fullback, is beginning to look like the first repeater as American Football League rushing champion.

Gilchrist gained 99 yards in nine carries Sunday against the New York Jets, including a 67-yard touchdown run. Cookie boosted his season total to 720 yards in 151 tries. Matt Snell, the Jets' rookie, trails in second place with 579 yards in 131 rushes.

Len Dawson strengthened his lead in the passing department with four touchdown passes for Kansas City. Back in good health after a mid-season rib injury, Dawson has thrown 10 TD passes in the last two games.

Gino Cappelletti of the Boston Patriots moved to within two points of his fourth consecutive 100-point game. Cappelletti had four field goals Friday night. He had made good on 21 of 31 field-goal attempts, kicked 23 straight conversions and also scored two touchdowns for a total of 98 points. Pete Gogolak, Buffalo's kicker is second with 72 points.

Houston's Charley Hennigan remained the pass receiving leader with 60 catches for 1,010 yards and five touchdowns.

Irish Retain First Place

By The Associated Press

Notre Dame is the No. 1 team in the country for the second straight week, but the unbeaten Irish must make a strong showing against Michigan State this Saturday to receive another vote of confidence.

The Associated Press panel of sports writers and sportscasters placed Notre Dame at the head of the major college Top Ten again this week but only by 13 points over Alabama, the Southeastern Conference champion.

A shaky 17-15 victory over Pitt last Saturday, coupled with Alabama's 17-9 triumph over Louisiana State, another member of the Top Ten, left the Irish with a slim lead, built on 26 of 41 first-place votes.

Alabama replaced Ohio State as runner-up, receiving 11 first-place votes. The Buckeyes stumbled to seventh following their 27-0 loss to Penn State.

Unbeaten Arkansas and Nebraska and once-beaten Texas each advanced one spot to third, fourth and fifth, respectively. Michigan bolted from nowhere to sixth while Oregon State moved into the Top Ten in eighth place.

LSU, one of five of the elite to lose last Saturday, dropped to ninth, and Georgia Tech slipped to 10th. Florida and Purdue fell out altogether.

In seeking its eighth victory, Notre Dame plays a team it hasn't defeated since 1954. In the ensuing period, Michigan State has knocked off the Irish seven times. The Spartans also are fresh from a 21-7 victory that knocked Purdue out of the Top Ten and out of the lead in the Big Ten.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, and points:

1. Notre Dame (26)	380
2. Alabama (11)	367
3. Arkansas (3)	334
4. Nebraska	283
5. Texas	220
6. Michigan	184
7. Ohio State	138
8. Oregon State (1)	114
9. Louisiana State	69
10. Georgia Tech	59

Milwaukee Man Urges Action

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Eugene Grobbschmidt, Milwaukee County board chairman, says he is in favor of a suggestion that the county, assured that the Braves will make their home in Milwaukee for one more year, consider an antitrust action against the National League.

The antitrust suit was proposed Monday by Rep. Henry Reuss, D-Wis., who said the league's action in Phoenix, Ariz., last week "is a clear attempt at restraint of trade."

In a unanimous decision, the league told the Braves to keep to their contract with the county to play all 1965 home games in County Stadium, but approved the shift of the club to Atlanta for the 1966 season.

Reuss said that "baseball's 42-year-old exemption from the antitrust laws is at an end." He said there was no reason for the county to await possible action by the Department of Justice or the Congress before initiating action.

"Chairman Emanuel Celler of the House Judiciary Committee has likewise expressed the view that Milwaukee County should call the antitrust laws into play," Reuss said.

Grobbschmidt said Monday night he would confer as soon as possible with county corporation counsel Robert Russell about such a suit.

Expect Pistons To Fire Coach

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Don Wattrick, new executive manager of the Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association, is expected to announce today the release of Coach Charley Wolf and the signing of a veteran player on the Detroit team as the new mentor.

Wattrick, a 54-year-old Detroit radio and sports personality named to the executive post Monday, said he hoped to make an announcement through his Detroit office by 1 p.m., EST.

"I did not say I was going to fire Charley Wolf," Wattrick told the Associated Press Monday night. "If it happens, fine, I will talk to Wolf Tuesday morning. There will be an announcement Tuesday morning."

In Fort Wayne, Ind., Pistons' owner Fred Zollner said Wattrick is acting on his own initiative in team matters. Zollner added that he expects to hear a report from Wattrick when he returns from the East later this week.

Wattrick declined direct comment on the coaching change, except to say that he "wants to know why we're not winning. So I look at first things first. I look at the guy that has been in control of the team."

"Any changes will be made by me and I intend to change the coach as soon as possible," he added.

Citing the Pistons' 2-9 losing record, Wattrick said one of his first acts in his new job would be to "try to make this team a winner." The Pistons haven't had a winning season since moving from Fort Wayne in 1957.

Wattrick added there are "personality problems between the coach (Wolf) and the team."

Wolf, asked about the possibility of his being dismissed, said "I won't be disturbed one way or the other. I haven't had any word from the front office. I can't comment one way or the other."

Wolf is serving the second year of a two-year contract.

Wattrick also announced Monday that he had named Earl Lloyd, who played with Syracuse and who has been Detroit's head scout, as an assistant to him. He will be "in charge of scouting and player personnel, wherever I think his knowledge will help me," said Wattrick.

The Pistons are in Philadelphia to play Baltimore tonight in Convention Hall.

Royals Expect Oscar's Return

CINCINNATI (AP) — The shaken Cincinnati Royals have one cause for good cheer today — the Big O may be back in action Friday.

Oscar Robertson, the Royals' one-man team, has been out of action since he suffered an eye injury Nov. 1 in a game against Detroit. Since then, the Royals have dropped three straight.

The 10 stitches in Robinson's right eye ball came out Monday morning and doctors at Christ Hospital said he would be able to play this weekend.

Tulane Lost $1.2 Million On Sports In Two Years

ATLANTA (AP) — Tulane, which put its Southeastern Conference status in doubt by scheduling only three SEC games in 1966, has lost more than $1.2 million on its athletic program during the past two years.

The decision to cut back on the SEC schedule and possibly lay the groundwork for getting out of the conference came several months ago when school officials decided they could not afford to subsidize the program to the tune of $600,000 a year.

The $1.2-million figure—which officials at the university in New Orleans would neither confirm nor deny—came from two persons close to the school and also from two members of the athletic staffs of two other SEC institutions.

Dr. Rix N. Yard, athletic director of Tulane, said in a telephone interview that it was obvious to the educated eye that the losses at Tulane the past two seasons have been heavy. But he declined to put any figure on them.

"A look at the Tulane catalog is enough to let you see how hard it is for us to compete in the SEC financially," Yard said. "The average scholarship here costs us $2,500 a year, while it's about half that at state-supported schools."

"I would like to set the record straight on this: we are not, nor do we have any intention of, de-emphasizing athletics at Tulane," Yard said.

"We just want to get things back in order around here and get our feet on the ground, and I believe the conference will want to cooperate with us."

The SEC will hold its annual meeting in Atlanta in January and will determine at that time what action to take on the Tulane matter. The school's decision not to play the required six conference football games is a violation of the SEC bylaws.

SEC Commissioner Bernie Moore said in Birmingham that he had not had time to study Tulane's situation and did not know how other conference members felt.

Tulane is 1-6 in the won-loss column this year and has won only two other games since 1961. Attendance at home games has averaged about 18,000 this season.

Other SEC members are Alabama, Auburn, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana State, Mississippi, Mississippi State, Tennessee and Vanderbilt.

Title Bout Set In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Middleweight boxing champion Joey Giardello will defend his title against Ruben (Hurricane) Carter Dec. 14 in Convention Hall — with or without television — says Giardello's attorney, Michael Del Collo.

The postponed bout was to have taken place in Las Vegas on Oct. 23, but Giardello walked out when promoters couldn't come up with a $55,000 guarantee for him. Carter was to have received $12,500.

The official announcement and signing of new contracts will take place Thursday in Philadelphia, Del Collo said.

Right Seat, Wrong Date

NEW YORK (AP) — A guy walked into the National Horse Show in Madison Square Garden Monday night, looked around with a puzzled expression on his face and went to his seat.

The seat was occupied so he took his complaint to the chief usher.

"Someone's in my seat," he growled. "Get him out. And by the way, what time does the wrestling start?"

He had a ticket for the wrestling matches next Monday night, Nov. 16.

"It's too big to get in the door! We'll have to buy a new house!"

How does this sound for a starting football lineup to make any coach drool? . . . A front line averaging 205 pounds from end to end, without a player under 6 feet tall . . . A backfield with an average weight of 181 pounds and average height of 5-11.

That's just what this year's All-Upper Peninsula first team, selected Saturday by the region's sportswriters, measures out at . . . Smallest man in the line is end Bob Gendz-will of Iron River at 6-2 and 180 pounds while the biggest is tackle Dwight Romagnoli of Kingsford at 6-4, 238.

Jim Mott, athletic publicity director at the University of Wisconsin, writes: "Defensively, tackle Tom Domres of Gladstone turned in a good performance in the UW's annual freshman intrasquad football game last week in which the Cardinals defeated the Whites 18-13." . . . Domres, listed at 6-2½ and 225 pounds, was awarded a football scholarship to Wisconsin after an outstanding prep career at Gladstone.

The Stephenson Eagles have named Paul Dougovito their most valuable football player this fall . . . Which proves that size isn't everything in athletics . . . Stephenson lists Dougovito at 5-7 and 150, which probably includes at least his helmet, but his gridiron feats need no apology . . . Dougovito carried the ball 113 times and gained 694 yards although hampered most of the season by injuries . . . He scored 48 of Stephenson's 92 points during the campaign.

Coach Frank Miketinae and assistant Phil Hiney guided their Escanaba jayvee football team to six straight victories following a 7-6 setback to Menominee in their season opener, downing Ishpeming, Manistique, Marinette, Marquette, Iron Mountain and Negaunee in that order . . . The Eskey juniors snapped a 14 game Marinette victory string and whipped Iron Mountain's Menominee Range Conference champs 27-7 . . . Bob Irish was the leading scorer with nine touchdowns and quarterback Jim Boyle threw 10 touchdown passes.

Josie Kinkella of Gladstone, bowling for Pabst crashed the first 600 series of the season at the Midway Lanes with games of 206, 186 and 211 for a 603 count . . . Pabst had games of 844, 807 and 860 for 2511, tops for the season . . . Shirley Peltier of Escanaba rattled a recent 595 on games of 213, 194 and 188.

Barry Pierson, junior quarterback at St. Ignace, had a great season for Coach Art Haege this fall . . . The 5 foot 11 inch star completed 74 of 149 passes for 1,287 yards and 7 touchdowns . . . He added 536 yards rushing and scored 12 touchdowns on the ground . . . On defense he intercepted a half dozen passes and ran one back for a touchdown.

Prep Football Pacers Appear Set For Year

By The Associated Press
With only one game remaining for most schools, East Lansing, Albion and Elsie appear to have clear sailing toward mythical state championships in the Associated Press football poll.

All three hold commanding leads in their respective classes in this week's poll, and it seems unlikely that they'll be headed by any of the teams with games remaining.

East Lansing, which has completed its season with an 8-0 mark, holds a 29-point lead over Saginaw Arthur Hill in the voting by the AP's statewide panel of sports writers and sports-casters.

Albion, also unbeaten, has a 45-point lead over Buchanan in game to play, tops Class C-D. Traverse City moved up to third place and Flint Central dropped to fourth in Class A. In other major changes in this class, Grand Rapids Ottawa look over ninth spot and Battle Creek Central moved back into tenth.

Lansing Everett and Kalamazoo Central dropped out.

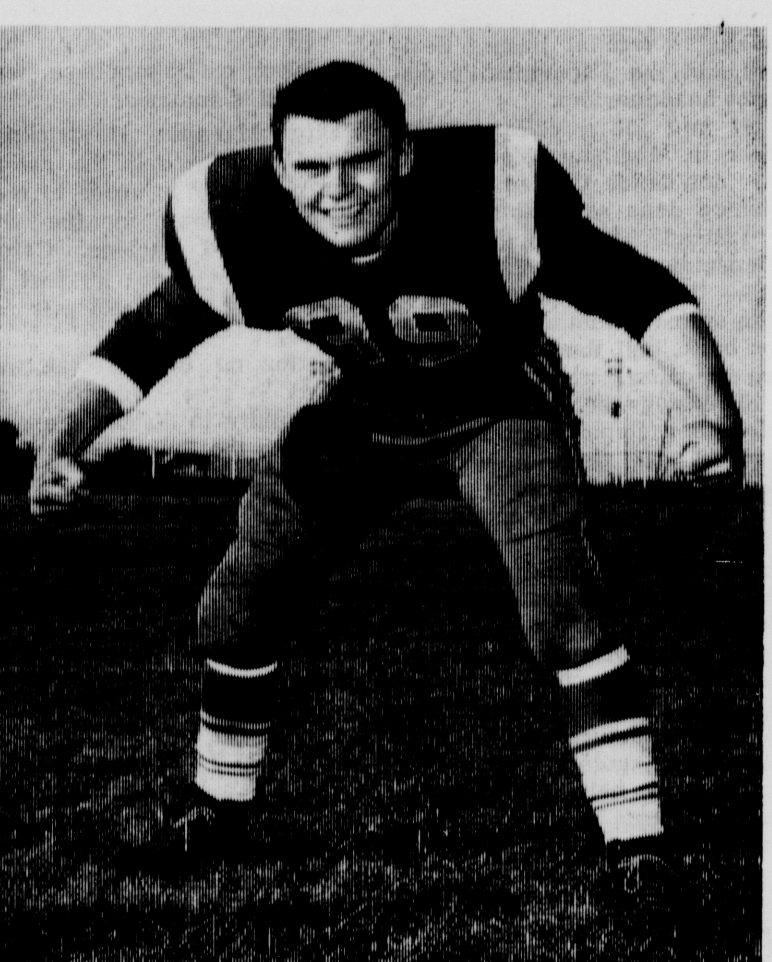

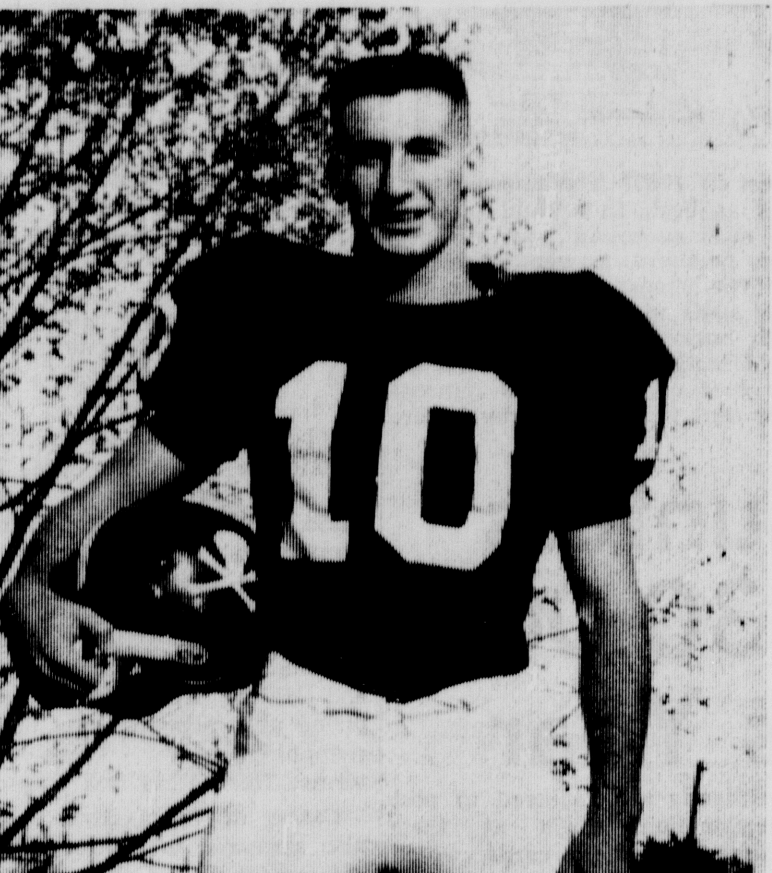

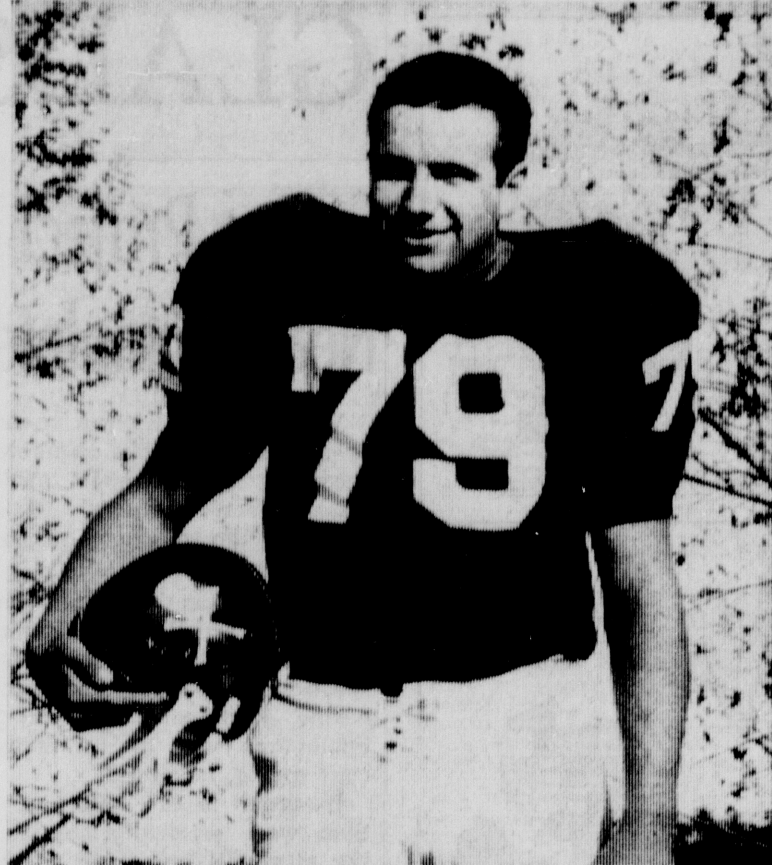

There was another shakeup in Class B with Detroit St. Ambrose continuing its climb by placing third. St. Johns improved by three places to take fifth behind St. Louis.

Fennville jumped four places to take over the No. 4 spot, behind Middleville and Watervliet, in Class C-D.

Unbeaten Ferndale St. James finally cracked the elite group by placing tenth as Adrian Catholic dropped out.

Late-starting Ann Arbor advanced into the sixth position in Class A, with Dearborn Edsel Ford coming into eighth, two positions higher than last week. Fenton made another big jump in Class B, moving up four spots to place seventh.

The voting, with points based on 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for a second, etc. though 1 point Class B. Elsie, with one more for a 10th-place vote:

Gophers Bump MSU Runners

URBANAN, Ill. (AP) — Minnesota dethroned Michigan State as Big Ten cross country running champion Monday and junior Lee Assenheimer of Northwestern won the individual crown.

In the reverse scoring system, the Gophers registered 35 points while Michigan State, winner of 11 of the last 13 Big Ten harrier titles, was second with 59. They were followed by Wisconsin with 91, Northwestern 99, Iowa 109 and Indiana 117. There was no scoring for Ohio State, Michigan, Purdue and Illinois.

Assenheimer, who finished seventh last year, took the lead after the first mile and kept it to beat out Norris Peterson of Minnesota by about five yards. His winning time for the four-mile course on the Savoy Golf Course was 20:11 compared to the record of 19:39.4.

Finishing in order behind the first two were Mike Kaines; MSU; Tom Heinonen, Minnesota; Bruce Fraser, Wisconsin; Paul McCollam, MSU; Craig Boydston, Northwestern; Bob Weigel, Minnesota.

Eic Zemper, MSU; Dave Wagner, Minnesota; John Valentie, Minnesota; Terry Shy, Ind.; Jim Weiner, Wisconsin; Mike Elwell, Minnesota; Ken Messer, Iowa; Glenn Cothorn, Northwestern; Stan Gaffin, Minnesota; George Balthrop, MSU; Steve Tierman, Iowa, and Steve Tullberg, Wisconsin.

The New York Yankees beat Kansas City 12 times in 18 meetings this year.

Ford Undergoes Arm Operation

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Whitey Ford was recuperating today from an operation on his left arm, and the New York Yankees' celebrated southpaw should be able to pitch again by spring training.

The surgery, performed Monday by Dr. Denton Cooley, was to correct a circulatory ailment that had sidelined Ford during the middle stages of the American League pennant race, and again during the World Series.

Irish Meet Jinx; Hurt By Injuries

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Injuries are hurting unbeaten, top-ranked Notre Dame, whose coach, Ara Parseghian, always has maintained the team's big weakness was lack of experience depth.

Parseghian has dreaded the day when injuries cut out key men and this week faces a tremendous patching up job before taking on Michigan State Saturday in a nationally televised contest.

Also lurking is the hex coach Duffy Daugherty of MSU has had on the Irish. His Spartans have beaten them eight straight times.

Lack of bench to plug up for injured players began being noticeable Saturday as the Irish hung on for a 17-15 victory at Pittsburgh.

It is possible that Parseghian may be forced to play two full-backs, Joe Farrell and Joe Kantor, together in an effort to offset hobbled Wolski, the team's No. 1 ground gainer and scorer as well as a punishing pass-blocker.

Alan Pagen 230-pound defensive right end, may be shifted to the desperately injured-weakened left flank. It was the left side that Pitt steadily and successfully hammered.

Wolski had ripped 44 yards in eight carries against the Panthers before he was hurt. And in that time, John Huarte had hit on 7 of 14 passes for 169 yards and one touchdown.

With the sturdy, 195-pound Wolski unavailable for pass-blocking, Huarte completed only two of seven for 43 yards.

Tigers Reject Grid Bowl Bid

By The Associated Press
Wittenberg, which has finished its season undefeated but has rejected participation in a bowl game, retained its No. 1 rating today in The Associated Press small - college football poll.

The Tigers from Springfield, Ohio, have led the Top Ten since the start of the season. This week they received nine of 16 first-place votes and 132 points over-all.

The other nine teams also remained in the select group but were shuffled around considerably.

Wittenberg trounced Wabash 42-7 last Saturday, completing its season at 8-0 and extending its unbeaten streak to 29 games, longest in the country. The Tigers were tied once last season.

Almost a certainty to receive an invitation to one of four NCAA-sponsored small - college bowls, the Tigers unanimously voted against such a game at a special meeting Monday.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, and points:

1. Wittenberg (9) 132
2. Louisiana Tech (2) 96
3. Florida A&M (1) 91
4. Prairie View 75
5. Los Angeles St. (1) 66
6. San Diego St. 55
7. Texas A&I 52
8. Massachusetts 47
9. Minn. Concordia 40
10. Arkansas State 24

Iron River Gets Award

NEGAUNEE — Iron River High School was named winner of the first annual football sportsmanship trophy by the Lake Superior Coaches-Officials Assn. at a meeting here Monday.

Iron River was selected from among 22 schools nominated by coaches and officials. A similar award will be made in basketball. The award, a traveling trophy, is based on conduct of players, coaches, administrators and fans before, during and after games. The winning school in both sports will receive a replica for permanent possession, donated by WDBC Radio Station.

Wolverines Lose Safety Rindfuss

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A sprained ankle will keep Michigan safety man Dick Rindfuss out of Saturday's football game with Iowa and possibly the game with Ohio State the following week, Coach Bump Elliott said Monday.

Doctors at University Hospital put the senior defensive back's leg in a cast and will not remove it until next week.

Rindfuss is one of two Wolverines lost in last Saturday's 21-7 triumph over Illinois. Tackle John Yanz ended his college career with a knee injury and was operated on Sunday.

Elliott said Bill Keating or Jerry Mader may fill Yanz's place.

Showboat Hall Heads Trotter Court Lineup

Skilled artisans of several professions will present their wares to the edification and delight of the assembled on-lookers at Holy Name High School on Saturday, Nov. 21, when the great Harlem Globetrotters of basketball headline a huge program starting at 8 p. m.

Not only are the basketball players who will be in action, including the New York Nationals facing the Globetrotters, among the finest in the sport, but so are the array of added entertainers Boss Man Abe Saperstein of the Trotters is bringing along.

Northern Quint To Stage Clinic Here Wednesday

The Northern Michigan University basketball team will stage a brief clinic under Coach Stan Albeck at the Escanaba High School gym Wednesday, Nov. 18, starting at 7 p. m.

The public is invited and area basketball teams are encouraged to attend. There will be no admission charge.

The Wildcats will run through their practice drills and close the clinic with an intra-squad scrimmage. Con Yagodzinski, former Holy Name star, is a member of the Northern team.

This is the celebrated international edition of the Globetrotters, who take their montage of cage wizardry, unsurpassed showmanship and all-around brilliance to all parts of the globe, including a third complete swing around the world last year. The team's 29th edition certainly must be classed among the best of all time. It is a unit of outstanding cagers, height, razzle dazzle perfection and speed.

There are the ace fun ring-leaders, Bob "Showboat" Hall, 6-2, now in the 15th season with the team, and J. C. Gipson, 6-8, a 13-year veteran. Rounding out the powerhouse are Bobby Milton, 6-1, 15th year; Mel Davis, 6-5, third season; Leroy Gibson, 6-5, a soph in Trotter ranks, as is David Gaines 6-1 dribbling wizard, and Doug Himes, 6-5. Only newcomer to make the squad is 6-9 Manny Oliver.

That's an array that would scare any opponent, but not the Nationals who are most capable in their own right. Their squad: Tike Karavas, 6', El Camino Junior College, Calif., a three-year AAU star; Bob Combs, 5-10, California State years; Pat Patterson, 6-8, Bowling Green and voted Most Valuable Player in military tournament held in Verdum, France; Robert Akeo, 6', University of Hawaii; Paul Putnam, 6-7, Fullerton Junior College, Calif.; player-coach Bob Stoormer, 6-8, University of Okla.; Troy Collier, 6-8, Utah State College and Willie Anderson 6-4, Oregon Tech.

Before the game and between halves will come the great added show, displaying the Farias troupe in several acts of acrobatic prowess; delightful "Squeaky" Parry on the trampoline; the thrilling and funny acrobatic presentation of the Jovers from England; brilliant batonist Guy Allan, and the wizard of the accordion, Frank Martino.

Tickets for the huge show are on sale at Gust Aspi's, Tommy's Lunch, Ernie's Party Store and Dehlin Drug Store.

Don't worry about the left arm, advises pro Rick Famin, in the current Golf magazine. Instead of holding the club a little tighter in an attempt to keep the left arm straight, apply less left hand pressure and acquire a sense of feel. Learn to swing the club in your own tempo and, if the basics are in tune and your swing coordinated, your left arm will straighten out when it should.

Legion Service Objectives Told

One of the outstanding, selfless accomplishments of the American Legion was the pushing through, in 1944, of the GI bill of rights, Robert H. Sturm, Ishpeming, 12th district alternate committeeman for the Legion said in a talk for Rotary Monday.

The bill was backed by World War I veterans who did not want World War II veterans to undergo the troubles, suffering and difficulty they met following the first war, he said.

It made possible return to jobs, education and rehabilitation if needed. Another example of Legion activity in Legislation is House bill 1927 making benefits available to veterans and dependents where they were not previously.

Service Officers

The Legion is the largest veteran organization in the nation with over 23 million members. But, said Sturm, "there are too many riding the coat-tails of the American Legion, as the membership represents only 10 per cent of the veterans."

He urged more active participation and membership by veterans and a greater appreciation of the Legion's leadership by the general public because "what's good for the veteran is usually also good for the country."

The American Legion has a service officer available at every post to explain information on laws and acts pertaining to veterans, and has full-time field service officers who guide veterans in obtaining the benefits to which they have a right.

Americanism

Activities include scholarship awards through an oratorical contest held each year, with students speaking on some phase of the American Constitution. The U.P. has not had a contestant in these, he noted.

Wolverine Boys State, in which youngsters establish and operate model governments for a week, baseball programs, which graduate a number to Big League teams, and sponsorship of Drum and Bugle Corps units and Scout troops also are among its programs.

Americanism is one of its big activities, stressing America, must not just accept the good it has but fight to keep it. It is "all right to be anti-communism, anti-fascist, anti-racist, but we feel it is better to have a positive program for Americanism," he stated.

A visitor in the Sturm home from Tanganyika was amazed by such things as a pop-up toaster, automatic car shift, and freedom of speech which Americans have. The visitor told Sturm and a group at Ishpeming that in his home country the average pay is 150 shillings a month (There are seven shillings to a dollar).

William Hentschell arranged the program.

Fines of $15 and costs of $4.30 each were assessed in Justice Court against Robert W. Parrish, 19, and Eldred Joseph Demars, 17, both of Cooks, on simple larceny charges stemming from efforts to salvage radiators from old cars in a field. They were also placed on 90 days probation.

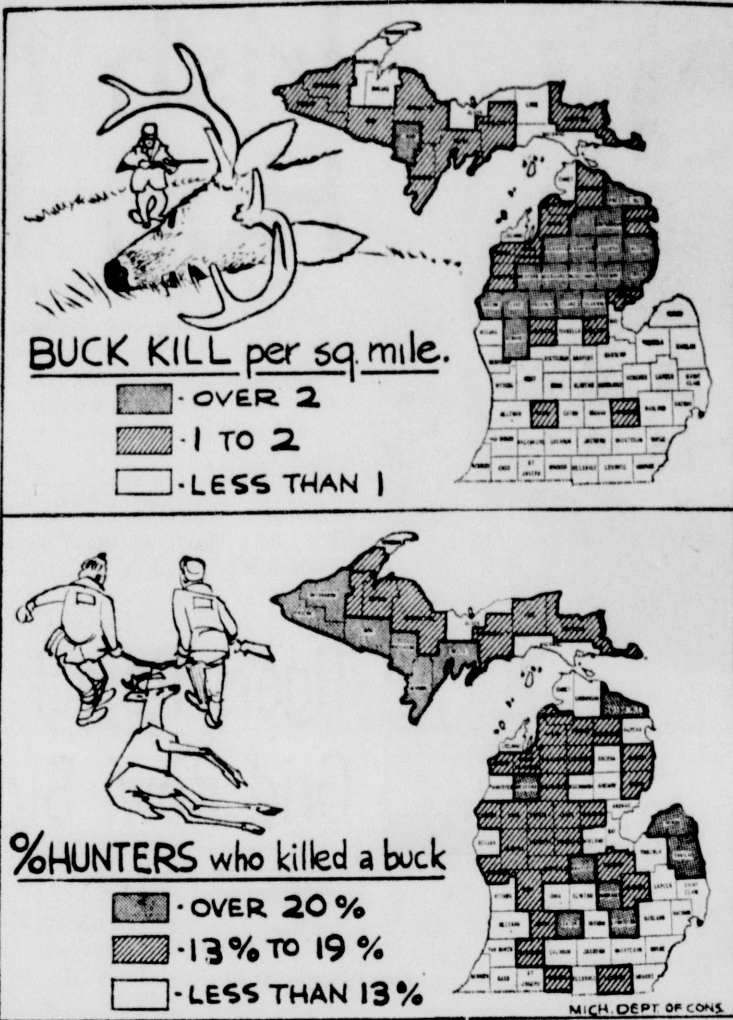

A warrant charging driving under the influence of liquor has been obtained against Thomas Wilson, 74, of Arbutus Ave., following an accident Sunday at 3:30 p.m., in which his car hit a tree and a dry cleaner's gas tank in the alley west of the 200 block of S. Cedar St. Wilson was treated at the hospital for a facial injury.

Herbert P. Boughey, president of Leelanau Realty and broker in charge of the Manistique office of the firm is receiving treatment in Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital for a leg injury received in an accident at his office. Mrs. Ida Kirt of Leland has come to Manistique to assume selling duties and will remain until Thanksgiving.

First Cleaning

WASHINGTON (AP) — The massive, ornate dome high above the main reading room of the Library of Congress is getting its first cleaning in 67 years.

It hasn't been scrubbed or repaired since the building was opened in 1897.

WHERE WAS buck hunting best in 1963? The answer to that depends on what you count as best. Individual hunters in the Upper Peninsula were the most successful, but kill per square mile was highest in the northern Lower Peninsula where gun pressure was over three times as great. In the southern third of the state, a few spots measured up to some of the better northern areas with buck kill per square mile. All told, about one of every four Michigan hunters got a deer last year. Approximately 15 per cent of the 502,000 hunters killed a buck, while nearly 10 per cent took an antlerless deer.

Expect Hunters To Take 130,000 Deer This Year

Firearm deer hunters, expected to invade Michigan's fields and forests in record numbers approaching 525,000 should tote home more than 130,000 whitetails this November to top their 1963 kill of 124,000 which stands as second best in the state's history, the Conservation Department predicts.

As always, the big "if" will be the weather. Given good conditions, hunters will have everything going for them when they swing into action Nov. 14 in the western and central Upper Peninsula and Nov. 15 throughout the rest of the state.

With any-deer regulations more liberal and this year's herd estimated at or slightly above the high 1963 level of about 800,000 animals, the Conservation Department's preseason outlook points to a fall take of 60,000 - 70,000 antlerless deer and well over 70,000 bucks.

Although most of the animals will be shot in Michigan's north woods, the southern third of the state will account for a fair share of the total kill.

U.P. Take 35,400

Buck hunters in the north country, who notched their highest kill in 12 years last season, are counted upon to do just as well this fall. Department game officials look for them to harvest 20,000 bucks in the Upper Peninsula and 50,000 in the northern Lower Peninsula.

Meanwhile, special seasons are hoped to produce an antlerless take of 15,400 deer in the Upper Peninsula and more than 49,000 in the northern Lower Peninsula. Last season, permitting hunters took 12,790 of these animals above the Straits and another 36,570 in the other northern region.

Prospects for this November's bear season, which again dovetails with the deer hunt, shape up about the same as a year ago as far as the animals' populations are concerned. Here, too, much will depend on the whims of the weather.

One of the first things deer hunters should do when they reach their destinations in northern Michigan is to let the nearest Conservation Department field or district office know where they'll be staying.

Some Wear Collars

This simple step will be a big time-saver for Department field men in finding registered hunters if emergencies develop at home.

For the same reason, all hunters staying on state-owned land are required to post registration cards at their campsites. These cards, which must be filled out with each hunter's name and address, are available free at license dealers and the Department's district headquarters.

If you kill a collar-marked deer in Michigan this November don't hide the fact for fear you've done something wrong. Instead, tell Conservation Department field men all about it — the place where you shot the animal, whether it is a doe or buck, and the band number on its collar.

The story behind all this is tied to a Department research project on deer movements. Self-marking devices set out in northern deer yards and southern farmland areas have "colored" several hundred whitetails during the last few winters.

Now, the Department is turning to hunters for reports on these tagged whitetails to form a clearer picture of deer comings and goings, which, in turn, will help shape better management of the animals' northern range.

Sewer Project Near Complete

Work on the storm sewer project is 98 per cent complete, according to the report made by project engineer Klaas Knol to the city commission Monday night.

All pipe has been laid and all that remains is cleanup work, including a thorough inspection of openings and catch basins, Knol said. Seeding of boulevards will be completed next spring, he added.

In order to lay more pipe than was originally specified the city will lay some of the sidewalks removed for the project, including the portion on Minneapolis Ave. at the rear of the State Police post, city manager H. J. Hendrickson said.

This seemed advisable to make the sewer system more effective and still remain within the $400,000 limit, Hendrickson said.

The commission approved payment of $1,672 to Williams and Works for engineering services. Final payments will not be made until federal inspection is made. To date, 75 per cent of the total cost ($235,631) has been paid to the contractor.

A letter from the Planning Commission was read notifying the commission that the terms of Elmer Catron, Oscar Ohman and Harold Sjoquist are expiring and recommending their reappointment for three-year terms. This action was taken.

Caron, of 702 Dakota Ave., also appeared to protest a tax assessment on his property for the replacement of curbing removed on 7th St., when the 700 block of Dakota Ave. was rebuilt this summer.

City Manager Hendrickson stated that he felt the action was necessary in order to create a solid base for the new street and curbing. Caron claimed that about 30 feet of the curbing was needlessly removed.

Action on this protest was tabled to give Hendrickson an opportunity to discuss the protest with the Public Works Department. A report will be given at the next commission meeting Nov. 23.

Police Arrest 4 Youths For Grocery B & E

Four Rapid River juveniles were picked up Monday by State Police of the Gladstone Post and turned over to Probate Court in connection with a weekend breaking and entering of a Rapid River grocery store.

Police said Pike's Grocery was entered by breaking a window Friday night and that a quantity of beer was taken. Five six packs were recovered from the youths, troopers said.

Mrs. Heslip New President Of B.R.T. Auxiliary

Mrs. Edythe Heslip was elected president of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen at a regular meeting Nov. 3.

Other officers elected include Arlene Bloomquist, vice president; Louise Smith, secretary; Mary Lou LaFond, treasurer; Dagney Louis, conductress; Ann Sword, chaplain; Margaret Groleau, warden; Jane Peterson, inner guard; Margaret Reese, outer guard and Sadie Kegel, pianist.

Plans were completed for the annual Christmas dinner party to be held at Terrace Gardens, Tuesday, Dec. 1, at 7:30 p.m. All ladies are asked to bring a gift to exchange and to make reservations with Louise Smith, GA 8-9775, before Nov. 27.

The next regular meeting will be held at the Legion Hall at 6:30 p.m., Dec. 1, prior to the Christmas party.

Briefly Told

The Afternoon Circle of Evangelical Covenant Church will meet at 2:30 p.m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. Earl Louis, 722 Superior Ave. The program will be in charge of Mrs. Gilbert Olson and Mrs. John M. Olson.

Women of Trinity Episcopal Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Henry Miller, 803 Delta Ave., at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Lodge 103 of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen will hold a regular meeting in the Legion Hall at 7:30 p.m. today.

State Police of the Gladstone Post Monday ticketed Vernon Ihlenbeldt, 609 S. 9th St., Escanaba, for having no operator's license.

Investigation is being conducted by Gladstone State Police into a larceny of a quarter cord of dried hardwood from property on Co. Rd. H 2 east of Rock owned by Albert Ju-neau, Rte. 1, Rapid River.

Happy Rock Home Extension Study Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Donald Hendrickson, 1615 Wisconsin Ave. at 8 p. m. today. Members are reminded to bring suggestions or samples of Christmas gifts or decorations as well as mittens for the Christmas mitten tree.

The Gladstone Post Office will be closed Wednesday in observance of Veterans Day. Postmaster Maurice Anderson announced. The lobby will be open for convenience of box holders and dispatch of outgoing mail. Special delivery and perishable articles will be delivered.

Flag Displays Asked Nov. 11

All Gladstone residents and business establishments are being asked to display the American Flag on Wednesday, Veterans Day, by the August Mattson Post American Legion.

Post Commander Lyle E. Godfrey says that the participation of each citizen in this holiday observance will turn this patriotic holiday into an unforgettable demonstration of Americanism.

In observance of Veterans Day, August Mattson Post will be joining more than 16,000 American Legion organizations throughout the nation and overseas.

The local post will honor their veterans at a Veterans Day banquet at the Legion Hall Wednesday evening. The cocktail hour will begin at 5:30 p.m. and dinner will be served by the Ladies Auxiliary at 6:30 p.m.

Thure W. Dahlgren and Delbert Nelson Jr., are in charge of the Veterans Day observance and are being assisted by Ray Norton, who will give the Veterans Day address; Ralph Godfrey, post chaplain, who will give the invocation and benediction. Delbert Nelson will be master of ceremonies.

Formerly known as Armistice Day, the 11th day of November was redesignated as Veterans Day in 1954 by the 84th Congress, at the request of the American Legion and with the support of other veterans organizations.

Over 14,755 Seniors Trying For Scholarships

LANSING (AP) — At least 15,755 high school seniors have signed up to take examinations Nov. 21 for 444 state scholarships, and late applications still are being processed, state officials say.

Dr. John Porter of the Department of Public Instruction said about 8,000 applications were received in a late surge in the last few days just before the Nov. 2 deadline.

He predicted there would be more than 16,000 contestants once all the late applications are counted. He said delays resulted from such cases as applicants forgetting to enclose the $1 registration fee.

The scholarships, established by the legislature last spring, will pay costs of tuition and fees, up to $800, for 444 students at any accredited Michigan public or private college or university.

Scholarships will be awarded on the basis of financial need and results of the examinations to be given at 143 test centers throughout the state.

Shiawassee 1st To Get County Mental Aid Unit

Shiawassee County's plan for a Family Mental Health Center, approved by the Michigan Department of Mental Health, is the first community service to be established under State Act 54.

Thirteen counties, or combinations of counties, have formed mental health boards under the act and are now in the process of developing proposals to submit to the Department, reports Dr. R. A. Kimbich, director of the department.

The Shiawassee plan is designed to promote mental health through prevention, collaboration with other agencies, distribution of mental health information, and psychiatric consultation services.

The proposal calls for an annual budget during 1965 of $63,740, with the cost shared equally by the county and the state. The executive director will be a psychiatrist at a salary of $20,000. A clinical psychologist will serve as assistant director at a salary of $12,000. The professional staff will also include two social workers, one of whom will be a group therapist. The clerical staff will be augmented by a research assistant.

State Briefs

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The government airlines, Aeromexico de Mexico, is scheduled to inaugurate a new thrice a week service to Detroit and Montreal, Canada, beginning Dec. 17. It will fly every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, using 130-passenger DC jets planes.

LANSING (AP) — The state treasury took in $30.4 million last week, reports State Treasurer Sanford Brown. Expenses in the same period came to $67.2 million, leaving a balance of $158.02 million.

LANSING (AP)—Private contractors may cut the grass along Michigan freeways as the result of an experimental program being started by the State Highway Department. Brencl Contractors Inc. of Detroit has bid $29,000 to mow the median strip and other landscaped areas—a total of 675 acres—along 87 miles of freeway in Livingston, Ingham and Clinton counties in 1965 and 1966.

Newspaper want ads are a big sell! Eight hundred million was spent on classified ads last year . . . more than for all television spot announcements or radio advertising.

Farm Bureaus To Meet At Lansing

An expected 2000 farmers will convene at Michigan State University, East Lansing, Nov. 10-11-12, for the 45th annual meeting of the Michigan Farm Bureau.

Shaping a program of policies for the state's largest farm organization will be the goal of the 700 official voting farmer-delegates as they discuss a wide slate of topics including apportionment, tax programs, marketing, foreign trade, research and education.

More than 1,000 policy recommendations have been submitted by 71 County Farm Bureaus to be placed before the voting delegates.

Mrs. Aronson Dies Suddenly

Mrs. Clara Aronson, 71, of 146 S. Marr St., Fond du Lac, Wis., former resident of Escanaba died suddenly Monday at 9:30 a. m. at her home after suffering a heart attack.

Mrs. Aronson was born, Clara Themel, in Escanaba and she taught school in Delta County many years. She was a member of Phoebe Relekeh Lodge 179, the Past Noble Grands Club of the Rovekah Lodge and the First United Presbyterian Church of Escanaba. She moved to Fond du Lac several years ago.

Surviving are a son, Allan, Fond du Lac, two sisters and two brothers.

The body was taken to Uecker-Witt Funeral Home, where friends may call beginning this afternoon. Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at First United Presbyterian Church, Fond du Lac, and burial will be there.

HELP WANTED

Are there any carriage buffs around here? If so, Joe Mankin, a technician at Stanford University, Stanford, Calif., needs your help. Seems he happened to find an old carriage that once belonged to Sen. Leland Stanford, for whom the university is named. Mankin and his daughter, Jonette, 4, are shown with the carriage body. If anyone happens to have old carriage wheels, lamps, handles, etc., around, Mankin would be glad to have them.

State Can Get More U.S. Funds In Conservation

LANSING (AP) — State officials were telling local officials today how local conservation programs might qualify for some of the estimated $2.8 million in federal conservation funds going to Michigan soon.

The new Federal Land and Water Conservation Fund Act will provide the money to Michigan on a matching basis starting in fiscal 1965-66. Federal grants under the new act are expected to reach $5 million a year within a few years.

Michigan Conservation Department officials were explaining to a meeting in Lansing today what type of projects will be eligible for federal help, how the proposals should be submitted and the procedures of cost sharing.

First 12-inch and 15-inch steel beams rolled in the U. S. were made in Pittsburgh, Pa., in 1884.

Program Given For GOP Unity

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Critical of Republicans who wish to "purge" Goldwater adherents from the party, George T. Krupp offered an eight-point program Monday aimed at achieving GOP unity.

He was chairman of the Kent County Goldwater-Miller Organization in the recent campaign and sent his proposals to county GOP Committee Chairman Walter J. Russell.

Krupp said he was disturbed over suggestions that the party dump all Goldwater elements, including advice from many party officials to replace National Chairman Dean Burch.

"The volunteers who worked on the local campaign worked for a complete Republican victory from top to bottom...those who preach disunity cannot expect, nor will they get, a unified party," said Krupp.

Among proposals for greater Kent County Republican unity, Krupp urged adoption in Grand Rapids of a partisan mayor-council form of government; a new fund-raising organization to compensate volunteer workers; a comprehensive political education program, including state and regional workshops; a statewide Republican Speaker's Bureau; investment of a small percentage of all funds raised for future GOP activities and establishment of a Republican Office-Holders Assistance Committee to work the year around.

U.P. Science Fair Entries Sought

MARQUETTE — Upper Peninsula science students planning to present scientific papers at the annual Northern Michigan Science Fair were reminded today of the Feb. 15, deadline for the entries. The fair has been scheduled for April 3 at Northern Michigan University.

Dr. Alfred O. Niemi, of the NMU faculty, U.P. coordinator, Michigan Junior Academy of Science, Arts, and Letters, is in charge of this phase of the annual Science Fair. Entries in the paper presentations must be sent to him at NMU.

The student participant, or club he represents, must be affiliated with the Michigan Junior Academy of Science, Arts, and Letters. Entries will be accepted from students from both junior high school, grades seven through nine, and senior high school, 10 through 12.

Peace Corps Test Planned Nov. 14

Early Saturday morning Nov. 14, thousands of prospective Peace Corps volunteers will march into approximately 800 Civil Service testing centers across the nation. The nearest testing center is the Escanaba Post Office.

Peace Corps applicants must be American citizens at least 18 years of age. Married couples are eligible if they have no dependents under 18. College degrees are not necessary, but are looked upon with favor unless an applicant has learned a skill or trade.

Boy Fire Heroes To Get Reward

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Three teen-age boys instrumental in the rescue of a 5-week-old baby from a house fire here will be rewarded in formal ceremonies Wednesday for their achievement.

The boys last Thursday entered the burning house and helped take Timothy Herring from his crib to safety. They were aided by Mrs. Dean VanBruggen, 22, an upstairs tenant who ultimately brought the infant outdoors.

Credited also with turning in the initial alarm, chasing off younger children playing near the burning house and trying to halt the blaze with a garden hose were Bill Knoester, 14, and 13-year-olds Ted Koenen and Larry Wiers.

Vanguard Associates, manufacturer of home fire alarms, announced that the boys will receive citation plaques as well as watches from a Grand Rapids jeweler.

Real Michigan Presidency Vote Comes Dec. 14

LANSING (AP) — The real presidential election in Michigan comes Dec. 14 at the state capitol.

Votes cast Nov. 3 for Lyndon Baines Johnson actually were counted as votes for a slate of 21 Democratic electors who, under the Constitution, could cast Michigan's 21 electoral votes for some one other than Johnson.

Barring the completely unforeseen, though, they will vote for Johnson for President and Hubert H. Humphrey for Vice President.

Secretary of State James Hare issued the call Monday for the Dec. 14 election. The time and place is set by the Michigan Election Code.
